Reds Appeal For Peace In May Day Fete

Russians Observe Annual Fete, Blast U.S. On Viet War

By The Associated Press
May Day demonstrations around the world followed the usual pattern Sunday with calls for peace in Viet Nam sounding at most of them.

The Russians showed no new military hardware at their Moscow parade, Mao Tse-tung did not appear in Peking. And 7,000 South Vietnamese staged an anti-American demonstration in front of the U. S. Embassy in Saigon.

Reviewing a military parade in Moscow's Red Square, Soviet Defense Minister Rodion Y. Malinovsky accused the United States of waging "a foul bandit war against the heroic Vietnamese people."

"Together with the other Socialist countries," Malinovsky said, "we support our Vietnamese brothers and are rendering them and will continue to render them all possible assistance."

Other Soviet leaders standing atop Lenin's Tomb in a cold rain reviewed the parade, which included floats denouncing the U. S. presence in Viet Nam.

Radio Peking said three million persons turned out for the celebrations in the Communist Chinese capital, but Communist party Chairman Mao was absent. Mao, 72, has not been seen in public for more than five months.

During the Peking rally, Premier Chou En-lai warned the United States that "even more disastrous defeats are in store" if the Viet Nam war is expanded. He said U. S. efforts to set up peace talks would fail.

Newell Opens Mental Unit's Fund Appeal

The Newell phase of the annual fund drive on behalf of the Hancock - Brooke Mental Health Society will begin today and continue through Saturday under sponsorship of the Newell Junior Women's Club.

Mrs. Gerald Jividen and Mrs. David Turner, co-chairmen for the campaign, will be assisted by 21 volunteer workers in the door-to-door canvass.

Among the many services available to residents are a medically, psychiatrically administered program, psychological testing and evaluation, diagnosis and treatment and a referral service to other treatment facilities when indicated.

The clinic, held in the Weirton General Hospital, is open every Wednesday and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Appointments may be made by calling Weirton 748-3232, extension 368.

All funds collected in the drive are locally spent, the co-chairmen pointed out. Letters have been sent to business establishments during the last few weeks to aid in the campaign. Anyone not contacted may forward a contribution to the Newell Junior Women's Club in care of Mrs. Jividen.

Mao Mystery Grows

Red China Seen Near Power Shift

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deepening mystery over the fate of Mao Tse-tung spurred speculation among U. S. officials today about a possible power shift in Red China with worldwide repercussions.

The belief that the Chinese Communist leadership may be approaching a transition period is one of several reasons for recent overtures by the Johnson administration to reduce tensions and lower barriers between Red China and the United States.

All these gestures have been rebuffed by the Peking regime, but administration experts believe they may have an impact on the foreign policy attitude of future Chinese leaders.

The United States and, so far as Washington authorities can determine the Soviet Union, also, have been watching the Mao mystery develop for several months with growing fascination.

The interest of Soviet leaders in the possibility of personality changes in the top of the Peking ruling group is believed here to be a prime cause of their determination to hold the door open to some sort of Soviet-Chinese reconciliation.

The Chinese refused to attend a recent Communist Party meeting in Moscow but the Soviets nevertheless left the way clear for some later improvement in relations.

Mao's situation is regarded here as the key to what is likely to happen in Peking in the next few weeks or months. But it is a key which the outside world, reportedly including Soviet as well as American experts on Chinese Communist affairs, does not presently understand.

Mao, 72, last made a public appearance in November when he received a delegation from Cambodia. His absence from subsequent public ceremonies did not at first arouse interest here and in other world capitals, since it has been his pattern to drop from sight for two or three months at a time.

But when he failed to reappear in Peking as winter ended, U. S. experts began to speculate that he was ill. The belief that he has suffered a serious illness or perhaps undergone a major operation is now the dominant view in official Washington circles. He did not appear at Sunday's May Day celebration.

Another cause of the belief here that Mao is or has been seriously ill is the fact that the Chinese press has been engaged for more than a month now in virtually deifying him.

The view that Chinese leaders who carry on after Mao inevitably will do things differently is widely held among U. S. experts on China. They do not, however, expect any sudden changes in policy direction, especially so far as the United States is concerned.

Brain Damage Feared

Balloonist, 33, 'Critical' After Free Fall Bid Fails

WORTHINGTON, Minn. (AP)

Nick Plantanida was in critical condition today after a sudden equipment failure forced him to make a dangerous 57,000-foot descent from his high-altitude balloon. The failure ruined his third attempt to break the world record for free-fall parachuting.

Plantanida, his oxygen cut off, managed to gasp out, "Emergency!" into the radio transmitter aboard the gondola of the balloon. He then was parachuted to earth Sunday and taken unconscious from the open gondola.

Plantanida, 33, of Brick Town, N.J., was hospitalized here overnight and early today was flown to Minneapolis for treatment in an oxygen pressure chamber.

He lost consciousness because of a change in atmospheric pressure. He wore a pressurized flight suit and helmet, but the pressure was lost when a pneumatic seal around the helmet face plate apparently failed.

Ed Yost, program director for Raven Industries, which built the balloon, said today that examination of the suits showed no breaks and there were no cracks in the helmet. What caused the seal around the face plate to give way has not been determined, Yost said.

Medical technicians in Sioux Falls, S.D., meanwhile studied blood samples in an attempt to determine how the oxygen loss has affected Plantanida's brain and other organs.

The balloon was launched Sunday morning at Sioux Falls, 65 miles west of this southwestern Minnesota city. It was May Day, and the daredevil from New Jersey wanted to top the free-fall record of 85,523 feet now held by a Russian, Eugene Andreev.

$556 In Cash Taken

At County Truck Stop

LISEON — Burglars took $556 in cash from the Columbiana Truck Stop at the intersection of Routes 7 and 14, east of Columbiana, some time Sunday night or early today.

The Columbiana County sheriff's office is investigating. Deputies said a glass in a rear window was broken to gain entry.

The thieves took the money from an unlocked safe. Bill Jackson is manager of the establishment.

Rain-Swollen River Due To Crest Today

Any Evacuation Of Families Unlikely As Weather Clears

The rain-swollen Ohio River is expected to crest here this afternoon at 2 at 31 feet, just a foot below flood stage, the East Liverpool police department was notified over the week-end by the Federal-State Flood Forecasting Service at Pittsburgh.

The 31-foot level would send the river into some of the low-lying backwater areas along the stream, but would not cause any damage or force evacuation of any families or industries, according to the record of past experiences in high water.

The flood forecasting service said the river will hit a reading of 8 feet on the new river gauge on a Chester Bridge pier. That is equivalent to a reading of 31 feet in East Liverpool's traditional system of river - watching, based on the gauge at former Dam 8, near Newell.

Thirty - two feet (or 9 feet on the new gauge) is the flood stage in the East Liverpool area.

The difference in the two readings results from the fact that the new gauge is set with 0 marking the top of the stream's level at the normal stage, while the former reading had 0 at the river bottom.

The last high water in East Liverpool arrived on Feb. 14. The river crested then at 37.8 feet, or 14.8 feet on the new gauge.

A 32-foot stage barely puts water onto the River Rd. at its lowest point — at Ralston's crossing. The flooding then is not direct, but rather the result of backing up of water in a small stream that flows into the river through a culvert at that point. A stage of 31.5 feet puts water onto the highway above Congo.

Torrential weekend rains, coming on the heels of earlier precipitation, sent the Ohio rising rapidly.

The Ohio weatherman made no mention of additional rain in today's forecast. He said it will be fair and cool tonight and Tuesday will be mostly sunny and warmer.

More than two inches of rain fell in the southern Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia area drained by the Monongahela River, while over an inch fell in the Allegheny watershed in the last 72 hours.

At Pittsburgh, the rivers hit a 20-foot crest this morning, flooding some downtown underpasses and forcing closing of waterfront parking areas.

$5,000 Fire Damages Pittsburgh Card Shop

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fire caused an estimated $5,000 damage today at a card shop in a three - story downtown office building.

Asst. Fire Chief William Martin, who estimated the damage, said the blaze was confined to the rear of the card shop at 421 Smithfield St.

Sunny Skies Could Boost County Vote

Lone Change Set In City's Polling Sites On Tuesday

Sunny, warm weather is expected to encourage the turnout Tuesday when Columbiana County voters go to the polls in a primary election to nominate candidates for four county offices.

Offices At City Hall Will Close Tuesday

All offices at City Hall will be closed Tuesday because of the primary election, Mayor George E. Willshaw said today.

Parking meter regulations will be in force as usual, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey reminded. City Hall traditionally closes on both primary and general election dates because its main corridor is used as the voting place for Precinct 3-B.

ices, help choose slates for district and state posts and decide the fate of 15 special questions and issues.

Pre-election forecasts call for a county vote of 15,000.

The 167 polling places throughout the county will open at 7:30 a. m. and close at 7:30 p. m. Daylight Saving Time, which means 6:30 to 6:30 for any district still operating on Eastern Standard Time.

Leaders of both political parties today cited the state law which permits an Ohio resident to vote in the primaries tomorrow, so long as he will be 21 on or before Nov. 8, the general election date.

The procedure is known as "voting on age." But it does not allow the under-21 voter to have a ballot on any special questions or issues, party leaders pointed out.

There will be only one change in location in East Liverpool's 34 precinct polling places, the County Election Board announced.

Youth Slain, Girl Wounded At Zanesville

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A 16-year-old Zanesville girl was hospitalized with a shotgun wound following the fatal shooting early Friday of a youth identified as her boyfriend, sheriff's deputies reported.

The body of Leo Lucas, 18, of Zanesville, was found in a ditch along a rural road near here shortly after a girl identified as Elsie Saylor, suffering from a shotgun blast in the shoulder, staggered into a farmhouse.

Sought in connection with the shootings was a man the Muskingum County sheriff's department identified as the brother-in-law of Lucas, 32-year-old William Hill, also of Zanesville.

Investigators said Hill was a parolee from the Ohio Penitentiary where he served time for breaking and entering.

The girl was in fair condition at Good Samaritan Hospital in Zanesville.

Viet Nam Rescue Lull Marks South Viet's Ground War

Downed Pilot Saved From Reds

SAIGON (AP) — A U. S. Air Force pilot outran Communist pursuers in the mountains of North Viet Nam Sunday night and rescue helicopters plucked him to safety at dawn today.

Three helicopter attempts late Sunday afternoon to rescue Capt. James M. Ingalls of Palo Alto, Calif., were driven off by Communist groundfire. Ingalls had parachuted into the mountains at 3:45 p.m. after ground-fire shot down his A1E Skyraider while he was flying a forward air control mission over North Viet Nam.

He was the 48th pilot brought out of North Viet Nam by the U. S. Air Force's 3rd Aerospace Rescue Recovery Group since Jan. 1. The group rescued 120 downed pilots in the last three months of 1965.

Ingalls made immediate radio contact with search Skyraiders who flew overhead after he went down along the North Viet Nam-Laos border. They were led to him by the radio "beeper" that all pilots carry in their survival kits.

Ingalls landed at the base of a cliff and a pair of Air Force H3E Sikorsky helicopters told

Vatican Talk Held

Pope, Lodge Air Situation In Viet

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI discussed the Viet Nam crisis today in a 40-minute meeting with Henry Cabot Lodge, U. S. ambassador to Saigon.

The Pope and the ambassador conferred in the privacy of the library in the pontiff's apartment. Not even interpreters were present. They spoke in French.

The audience was unusually long, underlining the importance of the meeting.

Lodge arrived in Rome three days ago on his way to Washington for consultations.

The audience lasted five minutes less than the 45-minute audience in which Pope Paul and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko discussed peace problems just a week ago.

Scholar Drive Exceeds Goal Of $25,000 For '66

The area's "Dollars For Scholars" drive has exceeded its goal of $25,000 for 1966, according to a report received by the group's board of trustees during a meeting at the Review Sunday.

Joseph Coons, Citizens Scholarship Foundation treasurer, said $25,862.49 has been received in cash and pledges to date, with more funds expected from late contributors before the Awards Banquet May 24.

Ted Taylor, program vice-president, stated that contributions and pledges of $10 or more reported to the treasurer before 5 p. m. May 17 will be included in the program to be distributed at the banquet.

Pledges and contributions received after May 17 will be announced at the banquet, however.

Members of the Awards Committee were tentatively chosen by the 14 officers and trustees,

Lull Marks South Viet's Ground War

300 Sorties Flown By Planes Against Suspected Targets

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U. S. Navy fighter-bombers demolished another antiaircraft missile site near the North Vietnamese city of Vinh, but in the South the lull in the ground war extended into a third week, the U. S. command reported today.

American planes flew more than 300 sorties against suspected Communist targets in South Viet Nam. For the second day in a row B52s from Guam pounded Viet Cong troop areas near the Cambodian border.

Although weather curtailed air missions over the Communist North, A4 Skyhawks and F4 Crusaders from the carrier site 34 miles northeast of Vinh, on the North Vietnamese coast, with Bullpup air-to-surface missiles and 500- and 600-pound bombs. A spokesman said they destroyed everything within a 400-foot-square area, including two Soviet-built missile launchers.

U. S. spokesmen reported the loss of two more planes over North Viet Nam, raising the total shot down there to 227, but the pilots of both were rescued by helicopters. Four U. S. planes were lost over the North Friday.

Commenting on the lull in the ground war, the spokesman declared: "We have hurt these people a great deal in recent months. We're sure they are still pouring people in here from North Viet Nam at the rate of 5,500 a month. I don't believe they have supplies for support."

The infiltration figure, however, represents an increase of 1,000 men a month over Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's estimate to the Senate two months ago.

Across the 17th Parallel frontier, a U. S. helicopter picked up a downed U. S. airman at dawn after he had eluded Communist pursuers through the night in the mountains of North Viet Nam near the Laotian border.

Gas Company And Union Set 3-Year Pact

A new three-year contract has been signed by the Ohio Valley Gas Co. and members of Local 13656, District 50, of the United Mine Workers of America.

Provided are wage increases ranging from 11½ cents to 14 cents an hour in various work classifications. Lesser increases are provided in the second and third years of the pact. The settlement also provides "additional improvements" over the old contract which expired Sunday.

Ratification was announced jointly by Carl McVay president of Local 13656, and H. R. Sneddon, East Liverpool Division manager for Ohio Valley Gas.

Similar agreements also have been reached by union locals in the company's Bellaire and Steubenville divisions, it was announced.

Ingalls spent the night on the mountain, constantly on the move. Helicopters found him at dawn at a spot far from where he had been the previous afternoon.

They went straight in and picked him up without a shot being fired. Ingalls had successfully evaded his pursuers.

The helicopter that picked up Ingalls was from the Aerospace Group's Fifth Detachment, known as "The Jolly Green Giants" because of the green camouflage paint covering their aircraft.

The rescue ship was piloted by Maj. Ealmon L. Stearman, from Sulphur Springs, Tex., and Capt. David C. Henry of Philadelphia, Pa. The crew chief was Staff Sgt. Theodore H. Hounsblood of Skidmore, Mo., and the pararescue crewman was Air-craftsman William D. Brothen of Scotland Neck, N.C.

The 15-ounce can is most widely used today for dog and cat foods, followed in popularity by the 6-ounce can used for some cat foods. The 20-ounce can of pet food is gaining in suburbia, where families apparently either have more or larger pets.

Communist gunners beat off three attempts Sunday afternoon to rescue Air Force Capt. James M. Ingalls of Palo Alto, Calif. He was the 48th pilot brought out of the Communist North this year.

New agitation and terrorism followed an anti-American May Day demonstration in Saigon.

About 5,000 anti-Communist Roman Catholics demonstrated in the suburb of Hoc Mon, 10 miles northwest of the capital, demanding the ouster of U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge but praising American assistance to the war effort.

The crowd chanted, "Down with Lodge" and, "Lodge go home" but also hoisted placards saying, "Down with Communism" and "Thank You GIs." The Catholics repeated a charge that Lodge favors the Buddhists over the Catholics, a charge dating from the overthrow of President Ngo Dinh Diem, a Catholic, in November 1963. Coincidentally, Lodge is in Rome to see Pope Paul VI.

Elsewhere in Saigon, a terrorist hurled a grenade through a window of the home of Toan Tuyen, pro-Western union leader, and injured him and four members of his family. The terrorist fled.

China

It is assumed here that the top leadership under Mao will continue whenever the reins of power pass from the hands of the old leader. This group includes president Liu Shao-chi, Premier Chou En-lai, Defense Minister Marshal Lin Biao and Foreign Minister Chen Yi.

So far as Washington authorities know, all these men are dedicated to the theories of aggressive communist world revolution—a major source of conflict between China and other nations, including the Soviet Union and the United States.

Beyond such men as these, Western experts have little idea who might eventually succeed to power in China, but U.S. authorities on China believe that after a period of time in the post-Mao era a power struggle among personalities inevitably would develop and some of the younger men in the political structure might have different ideas about China's foreign relations.

It is to these unknown men and this more distant future that the recent change in emphasis in U.S. policy has been directed.

However, the immediate causes of this shift of emphasis are more contemporary.

The Johnson administration obviously has been trying since last December to develop a better tactical position for the next battle in the United Nations over the proposal to vote Red China into membership.

The close vote on this issue last fall caused U.S. officials to re-examine their position.

Overtures since then include a policy decision to let U.S.

That 'Alienated' 10 Per Cent

Samuel Lubell reports no more than 10 per cent of the present college generation can be classified as "alienated" — and Lubell has talked with college students on three dozen campuses, making a survey of their habits.

His estimate is interesting. The 10 per cent, he believes, can be traced to the presence on campuses today of the children of one-time radicals, disenchanted offspring of conservative parents, natural-born rebels and beatniks. The latter dramatize themselves for the effect it causes.

The question is whether this "alienated" 10 per cent is significantly larger than it used to be. Is the country going to hell in a basket, as pessimists insist it is, or to heaven in a rocket, as optimists claim? Or is it just about the way it always has been, making due allowances for changes in names and alternations in numbers?

There were no Sam Lubells around in former times to make surveys. Everything was guess-work then, as most everything still is. But is it too wild a guess that no more than 10 per cent of the students on college campuses always have been, shall we say, "alienated"?

We are thinking of socialists in the '20s, of young men who wore dirty lumberjack shirts, of goldfish eaters, gin guzzlers, the followers of F. Scott Fitzgerald et al. We are thinking of all the crazy guys and dolls who have come and gone in Academe.

It always has puzzled us that the antics of college students in their formative years should be mistaken for permanent patterns of thought. The "alienated" characters of a few years back now are family men and women, thick around the middle, set in their ways and, it is regrettable to say, sure that the current campus generation must be top-heavy with ne'er-dowells, kooks, commies, hedonists, hussies and draft-card burners.

Is it, really? Sam Lubell says these are not more than 10 per cent. That sounds like par for the course.

The Killer Of Cock Robin

The apparent death of a promising GOP policy was proclaimed by veteran Washington political observer Arthur Krock in the New York Times.

He recalled that as recently as April 6, Rep. Frank T. Bow of the 16th Ohio district had announced a Republican leadership decision to seek a 5 per cent cut in every appropriation bill.

But when the policy came up against an appropriation bill for the Agriculture Department, it collapsed because it might have knocked out funds for milk and lunch programs in the schools. At least that was the reason given for what looked to columnist Krock like an about-face. He did not buy Rep. Bow's assurance that the agriculture bill was only a "temporary" deviation.

"The over-all 5 per cent cut commitment died permanently in the House yesterday," was the statement in the Krock column of April 28. "A selective arrangement, subject to suspension when similar political considerations arise, has replaced it as Republican House leadership policy."

The culprit is what practical politicians refer to as "practical politics"—the knack of lining up friends and not lining up enemies.

What makes it disturbing is that practical politicians in the House and Senate live by this rule just as truly as the practical politician in the White House lives by it. Yet, in public money matters the chief executive is always blamed for profligate spending, though in hard fact the chief executive does not spend a penny. Only Congress can appropriate money.

At this very time, President Johnson is worried for fear Congress will appropriate more than he has asked for, thereby forcing him to ask for an increase in taxes. Then, when he had been forced to do that, Congress could refuse to raise taxes while blaming Mr. Johnson for profligacy.

Fun is fun, and politics is politics. But the president of the United States cannot appropriate money. Only representatives and senators can do that, and only representatives can originate spending proposals. Without legislative action, President Johnson cannot spend a dime.

The blame for profligacy in public spending is not on individuals. It is on a system of politics that rewards spenders and penalizes savers.

By James Marlow

if months ago he himself had explained his policy, instead of letting aides do it, and conducted a far stronger war.

It seems too late now to speculate on that. But last week the President must have suffered a shock.

His long-time friend, Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., one of the most influential men in Congress, suggested U.S. forces should be withdrawn if a survey of public opinion in the cities of Viet Nam showed a majority of the people opposed the American presence there.

RUSSELL SAID: This country can't win if it's fighting an enemy in front while the people it is supposed to be helping want U.S. forces to leave.

And Sunday, The Associated Press reported from Saigon, capital of South Viet Nam: In a May Day show crowds clamored for peace. One crowd of 7,000 farmers, dockworkers and students chanted in front of the U.S. Embassy: "Down with Americans."

The demonstrations, The AP said, took on an ominous meaning because, for the first time in years, organized anti-Americanism electrified the crowds and was tolerated by the authorities.

Further, the demonstrators seemed to represent a cross-section of the city's population. Buddhists were the backbone of the demonstrations while U.S. officials inclined toward the theory, they said, that the demonstrations were Communist-infiltrated.

But South Vietnamese without Communist nudging were angry at Americans for various reasons: the big-spending Americans pyramided inflation; prostitution was spreading; American bases were dotting the country.

By Truman Twill

ment that nothing is too good for the government and its minions.

Everything done in the name of the American public these days must be king-size and twice as costly as anything done anywhere else.

It's no wonder people on public payrolls begin to feel this way about themselves — that they must live higher on the hog than anyone ever lived before because they are trustees of the public trough.

These people all sing different verses, but they get together on the chorus: "We are going broke working for the government."

Perhaps so. Meanwhile the rest of us are going broke trying to keep the public trough filled so these people will not perish from want.

No one holds testimonial dinners for us and showers down thousands of dollars in gratitude — not unless we're star athletes nearing the end of the trail.

No hair-splitters in the Internal Revenue Service makes delicate decisions giving us the advantage of a doubt on the way we acquire portions of this world's goods.

It rubs us the wrong way when we stand aside while some big shot on the public payroll whizzes by in a shiny car we can't afford to a posh building we paid for to spread himself in a manner to which he surely wasn't accustomed until he belted up to the trough.

Best of luck to Sen. Dodd, who was apprehended while augmenting his $30,000 a year and prerequisites. He's typical, not unique. And what we wonder about is why he happens to be typical. How much do our public servants need a year to exercise the sovereignty of us faceless masses? Honest now.

Going To The Mountain

Union Feasts Gross Millions

By Victor Riesel

It's the mark of the new class, as Comrade Djalas would say, that its testimonial dinners are far more regal and lucrative than the common cocktail reception and alleged roast beef banquet tendered to ordinary members of the Senate.

The mass testimonial has been the vogue in some labor circles far longer than it has filled the coffers, private and political, of U.S. senators. And tax free, too.

It's safe to report, by way of understatement, that far more than a million dollars has been raised for a handful of union men in recent years.

They are not running for cover, but rather are strenuously recruiting converts even at this moment. There is, for example, the about-to-be-publicized testimonial dinner for Anthony (Pro) Provenzano, the rather rakish-looking international vice president of Jim Hoffa's Teamsters.

MR. PROVENZANO, a modest man though he has had himself done in oils, is filled with keen anticipation of the coming adulation, though the charge will be only $50 a plate.

Mr. Pro, who has three other good titles in the Teamsters' chain of command, just knows that the ballroom of Newark's Essex House will be crowded on the night of June 11.

They will come. They will not be deterred by the fact that the Supreme Court, the other day, rejected for the second time his appeal for a new trial. The decision has not dampened Mr. Pro's spirits.

He'll make a third try — the alternative being a seven-year term in the federal prisons and a $10,000 fine because he was convicted of extorting money in exchange for labor peace.

Though that soiree may raise only $50,000, which Mr. Pro may give to his favorite charity, which legally could well be himself, other Teamsters' testimonials have been far more lucrative.

TWO SUCH DINNERS have raised some $255,000 for James Hoffa's personal benefit.

The most recent was a gala and gargantuan steak and champagne testimonial on Feb. 5 in the dining section of Detroit's Cobo Hall. There was a sort of St. Valentine's Day outpouring of 1,800, slightly in advance of Mr. Hoffa's 53rd birthday which fell on Feb. 14.

Despite the speeches it was a great success — $130,000.

Slightly less successful financially, though far more regal, was the other testimonial on Oct. 22, 1965, in New York's Hotel Americana. There the estimated net was $125,000.

A third demonstration of mass affection has been scheduled for May 9 in the status symbol known as San Francisco's Fairmount Hotel.

However, its organizers appear to be wavering now that the Internal Revenue Service has shown so much interest in all such phenomena recently. This interest precedes the agitation in the Senate.

FOR MONTHS NOW the Internal Revenue people have been looking into the mass contribution. This is difficult work. There were but three of four complete lists of the donors in the New York demonstration.

The FBI did not involve itself — as is the case where such union affairs occur. FBI attention could have been interpreted as labor espionage, which is not the bureau's practice. Otherwise it could have set up cameras in the projection booths and photographed the halls and diners.

The money raised for Mr. Hoffa has been earmarked for the defraying of his legal fees. They are quite massive — about $570,000 covering just three cases during 1962-1964. And the appeals, of course.

He filed his most recent one in the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals (Chicago) late in March. This covers the case which resulted in his pension fund fraud trial. He was sentenced to five years in prison. He filed late in March. The Justice Department's reply is ready.

The testimonial dinner theory is that the monies are tax free if given in sums of less than $3,000 by each donor. The full total can run a million dollars.

Thus, with proceeds coming from "journal" advertising (special magazines distributed at the gatherings) as well as from ticket sales, some lesser labor men have walked away with as much as $65,000 in cash and homes, cars and long vacation trips.

The new interest in all this may yet force such men to spend their own money in the future.

Bright Spots

By David Lawrence

Everything Isn't Dark And Gloomy

Every now and then people get tired of the constant flow of unpleasant news and say, "Isn't there something good happening?" There certainly are two interesting developments this week which belong on the favorable side of human events.

For the first time since the Communists took over the government in Moscow, the foreign minister of the Soviet Union had a conference with the head of the Roman Catholic Church at Rome. Very little was disclosed as to the conversation, and only a brief communique was issued by David Lawrence which officially described the conference as agreeing that "men must work for the one goal of peace no matter what their political feelings or ideologies."

This is a significant advance. Religion and ideology have been in conflict inside Russia and, while token recognition is given to the worship of the Christian and other religions, basically Communism is opposed to such beliefs.

IT WELL MIGHT BE WONDERED just why the Soviet government sanctioned Foreign Minister Gromyko's mission to Pope Paul VI. Even in Moscow, there is an awareness of the tremendous influence wielded by the Vatican and the importance of making friends with the Roman Catholic Church, which has such a powerful impact on Latin America as well as other areas where most of the people are of the Roman Catholic faith. It's a tactical move in diplomacy for the Communists to get closer to the Catholic hierarchy everywhere.

The question still is unanswered, however, as to what the ultimate purpose of the strategy really is. Certainly the Communist parties in Italy, France and other European countries recognize that the chief source of opposition to them is to be found in the political parties in which Catholics predominate. Mr. Gromyko is calling for a "summit conference" of European governments, and to achieve this, it becomes necessary for the Soviet government at least to be on friendly terms with the Vatican.

THERE HAVE BEEN some rumors that behind it all is a move on the part of the Moscow government to find a way to wind up the war in Viet Nam. The Pope has been active in peace efforts for several months now, and it's conceivable that the Russians have made some suggestions which might bring about another peace move.

The good news is not, however, just in the international effort towards peace. There is something happening inside the United States which also is encouraging. The City of Washington particularly has seen many "demonstrations" in recent months, but the one scheduled here this week at Constitution Hall is different from all the others. It brings from across the United States 160 young men and women who say they have come to speak up and stand up for what they believe America stands for. They put on a musical show which is called "Sing Out '66." It's sponsored by 158 members of the Congress of the United States, as well as by members of the diplomatic corps.

THE MUSICAL GREW out of the "moral rearmament demonstration for modernizing America," which was held at Mackinac Island, Mich., last summer. These young people are singing that "Freedom isn't free, you've got to pay a price, you've got to pay a sacrifice for your liberty."

This type of "demonstration" has been duplicated across America on 312 college and high school campuses, at 20 military bases, and in many city coliseums during the last six months.

Two weeks ago, the cadets at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point stood up shouting and cheering for the performance, and the acting brigade commander of the cadets, speaking to the cast, said, "You are creating a spirit that makes the sacrifice of our lives, if we have to, worthwhile."

After appearing at the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, the cast flies to Germany at the invitation of Chancellor Erhard for a month's tour throughout the country. The entire group will be officially received by the chancellor in Bonn next week.

It's certainly a refreshing experience to find the youth of the country joining in such an enterprise. There will be conveyed abroad an image of a different America, erasing perhaps the picture of those college students who burned their draft cards. The moral rearmament crusade could also bring about a significant turn in the thinking of college youth in America.

300-Pound Bear Shot In Seattle Area Town

SEATTLE (AP)—A 300-pound black bear was shot and killed in suburban Medina Sunday night, climaxing a day-long hunt through the swank residential community east of here.

Medina Police Chief Al Anglin shot the bear with a rifle after two dogs treed it in the back yard of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Bergstrom.

Reports of a bear on the loose had been coming in for several days. Police began their hunt when a taxicab driver reported seeing the bear Sunday morning about a mile from the Bergstrom home.

Camel Brings Modern Plane Travel To Stop

CAIRO (AP)—A stray camel created near havoc when it strolled on to the main runway of Cairo's International Airport Sunday while an Air India jetliner was taking off.

The pilot of the big Boeing 707 pulled the plane off the runway only a few yards from the camel, which was running aimlessly along ahead of the plane.

Three other jetliners awaiting landing clearance had to circle the airport while guards chased the camel for an hour before they captured it.

Our Finest Tradition

No one is more aware than we are that the cost of a funeral is a major consideration for most of the families we serve.

This is why at Dawson's costs are determined entirely by each family's individual selection, made in complete privacy.

It has always been our sincere desire that costs be kept well within the circumstances of all we serve.

Funeral costs, then, are determined by what each family wishes to pay. Our services, facilities, equipment, and casket are available for as little as $180.00. Costs beyond that are strictly a matter of individual preference.

Strict adherence to this policy is one reason why so many families recommend the Dawson Funeral Home with confidence. We hope you will too.

For answers to any questions you may have regarding funeral services, ask for a free copy of our NEW booklet "Our Finest Tradition". Write, phone or stop in.

Lleras Wins As President In Colombia

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The Colombian presidential election went off as expected Sunday with Sen. Carlos Lleras Restrepo voted in by a large margin.

Lleras' little known opponent, attorney Jose Jaramillo Giraldo, showed surprising strength. With more than 60 per cent of the ballots counted, he drew more than 30 per cent of the vote, 565,168 to 1,327,320 for Lleras.

In a victory statement, Lleras said: "I have received overwhelming support for my program for the social transformation of Colombia."

"A keystone of my administration's foreign policy will be our friendship with the United States," he said. But he added that this "does not exclude cordial dissensions and friendly discussions whenever it is necessary."

Obviously galled by the large vote polled by Jaramillo, he accused a splinter Conservative group formed by followers of the late President Laureano Gomez of throwing their support to his opponent.

Lleras, 58, a liberal who has specialized in economics, had the backing of the ruling National Front of Liberal and Conservative parties, the Roman Catholic Church, labor and the press. He was so sure of victory that he did little campaigning and spent most of his time consulting political leaders on the makeup of his Cabinet.

Lleras asked the people for a strong vote of confidence to push his program of social reform through Congress and to counter the mounting influence of former dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, who backed Jaramillo.

Lleras has spent much of his life aiming for the presidency of this poverty-plagued nation of 15.4 million people.

In Mishap Near Chester

Car 'Drops In' At Home

The above auto, reportedly stolen, struck the porch of the residence of William Marble Jr. of Route 30, near Chester, after going over the bank at Taylor's Bend early Sunday morning. The owner of the 1957 model sedan, Gary Ice of 228 1/2 Ravine St., East Liverpool, told Hancock County sheriff's deputies that he had parked it in front of Terrace Lanes earlier in the evening and that it was taken from that location. Deputies estimated $200 damage to the front porch and lawn and $150 to the car. Police had no description of the operator of the vehicle, who fled the scene following the accident, timed at 12:40 by deputies.

Industry Police Being Hampered By 'Crank Calls'

Crank phone calls are threatening to hamper the effectiveness of the Industry Police Department.

Mrs. Ray Hendershot, wife of the chief who answers the calls when he's out on duty, reports she has been harassed with crank calls on the police phone the last two weeks.

"Most concern the failure to rehire one of the former patrolmen, while others send the police on wild chases," she said. "Two calls received Saturday concerned the discharged patrolman, with one caller criticizing the handling of traffic since the officer was fired. The caller, a man, said the department had to hire two men to replace the one let go, proving the fired man's value to the force."

Last week, according to Mrs. Hendershot, the police were summoned to check on a car in a ditch and to see about illegally parked cars. When they checked, there were no illegally parked cars and none in a ditch.

Mrs. Hendershot said the crank calls have been coming in sporadically since last summer, but recently have become more numerous.

"This is a foolish practice," she explained. "Not only are these calls irritating, but they tie up the police line and endanger people who may be in emergency situations, but are unable to get through to the police. So far, we haven't been able to identify the callers. If they are caught, there is a possibility of a fine up to $500 and a jail sentence of six months."

Sales And Earnings Are Up For Loblaw

YOUNGSTOWN — Norman A. Sieplon, president of the National Tea Co. which operates Loblaw stores in Ohio and Pennsylvania and Del Farm in Akron, announced today that sales for the 12 weeks ended March 26 were up 11 per cent, with an improvement in earnings of 13.9 per cent.

Sales for the period were $288,106,080, an increase of $28,513,633 over the $259,594,447 recorded last year.

Earnings were $2,706,517, an increase of $330,562 over the comparable 1965 period.

On a per share basis, 1966 earnings were 31 cents compared with 28 cents last year, despite a slightly increased number of shares outstanding this year.

If you are a lover of house plants, you may be dismayed some time to find on them white spots that resemble cotton and are about the size of a pinhead. These are mealy bugs. The best way to control them is to mix a blackleaf 40 solution and dunk the entire top into it by turning the plant upside down. These bugs spread rapidly from one plant to another, so get busy as soon as you notice the first one.

Conference Attended By District Nurses

A delegation from tri-state district was among those who attended the American Industrial Health Conference last week at Detroit.

The group included Ruby Webb of the Hall China Co., president of the Ohio Industrial Nurses Association; Martha Blackburn of Bloomingdale, Ohio, executive secretary of the OINA; Pearl Evans, Grace Moore and Dr. J. L. Thompson, medical director, of the Weirton Steel Co.; Joyce Klumut and Yolanda Fuehrer of Warner-Swasey, New Philadelphia; Ruth Knapp of Reeves Manufacturing, Dover; Delores Raimonde of Olin Mathieson, Hannibal, and Mildred Bauer of Allied Chemical, Moundsville.

Stolen Palestine Car Recovered In Field

EAST PALESTINE — A car stolen here some time late Friday night or early Saturday was recovered Sunday in a field near Negley, with the transmission removed.

The 1965 Pontiac Tempest owned by James L. Cartwright of 671 Alice St. was stolen from the parking lot at the VFW home on E. Taggart St. Cartwright discovered the theft Saturday at 1 a. m.

Columbiana County sheriff deputies found the car in a field off Route 154, three miles West of Negley. The spare wheel and tire also had been stolen.

Flooding Hits West Virginia

By The Associated Press
The U. S. Weather Bureau said the rain, which caused minor flooding in West Virginia over the weekend, was due to move out of the state today, and be followed by cloudy and cooler weather.

Persistent rainfall Saturday and Sunday resulted in several small creeks overflowing their banks, along with troublesome earthslides.

From 25 to 30 families left their homes temporarily when Mill and Sycamore creeks overflowed in Ripley, Jackson County.

Water from the Little Kanawha River also flooded a small section of Glenville, Gilmer County.

The biggest earthslide reported occurred Sunday near the Racine Locks and Dam in Mason County. The slide — more than 2,000 feet wide — blocked U. S. 33 and the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks.

The Weather Bureau said runoff from the weekend rain caused the Ohio River to rise perceptibly but that the river would crest below flood stages from Parkersburg to Huntington.

The Ohio's swift current proved troublesome to several towboat companies Sunday. Fifty-eight empty barges broke loose from their moorings at the Ohio River Co. terminal at Kenova.

The runaway barges were rounded up some four hours later by six towboats.

Four other barges each loaded with 850 tons of coal sank near the Gallipolis, Ohio, locks and dam. The barges were part of a six-barge tow being pushed by the Murdie-Boggs and Sons Co., of Catlettsburg, Ky.

No injuries were reported from either mishap.

State Police reported the following roads blocked Sunday either by high water or earthslides: U. S. 33 at Weston; W. Va. 5 at Sand Ford; U. S. 19 at White Rock; W. Va. 47 near McFarland, and U. S. 21 at Sissonville.

2 Are Injured As Their Auto Rams Culvert

Two Pennsylvania men were injured when their car rammed a culvert along Route 170, a tenth of a mile north of Route 154, Sunday night at 10.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon identified the driver as John William Haney Jr., 27, of Ellwood City. Haney lost control of the car on a curve. It went off the left side of the highway, hit the culvert and a road marker sign, spun around and came to rest on the opposite berm, officers said.

The left side and rear end of the 1962 model compact was demolished, officers reported.

Haney and a passenger, James A. Zeigler, 24, of Beaver Falls, were taken to Salem City Hospital for treatment of multiple abrasions and contusions.

Cars operated by Donald Felton, 49, of Columbiana and Betty Baum, 39, of Lisbon R. D. 4 were involved in a collision Sunday at 11:35 a. m. on County Rd. 416, two miles east of Route 344.

Officers said Felton halted on Route 344 for a stop sign and then pulled into the path of the woman. He was cited for failure to yield the right-of-way.

23 Killed, 49 Injured In Syria Parade Jam

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — An Iraqi report says 23 persons died of suffocation and 49 were injured Sunday in a huge pileup during a religious procession near Baghdad.

Baghdad radio said a woman tried to cross the path of a three-mile-long procession of 100,000 Muslim pilgrims.

Persons in the front lines of the procession halted abruptly and those behind stumbled into them.

Mishap Hurts Wife

Driver, 21, Cited After City Crash

A 21-year-old Salineville area man was cited by police after a collision Saturday night at E. 5th St. and Broadway which injured his wife and demolished their auto.

John Allen Davis of Salineville R.D. 3 was jailed on a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol following the crash at 8:34 p. m. that involved his 1959 four-door sedan and a 1966 model truck operated by Richard E. Rothrock, 30, of Lock Haven, Pa.

OFFICERS said Davis was driving west on E. 5th St. and the truck was moving north on Broadway.

Davis' wife, Mrs. Jacklyn Davis, 21, was injured in the collision. She was treated at City Hospital for contusions of the left shoulder.

Rothrock told Patrolman L. E. Richard he stopped for a traffic light, then began to proceed when it changed to green. Rothrock said he halted again for a car proceeding west on E. 5th St. When he started again, Davis' car came through the intersection and struck the truck, he reported.

Davis told officers he was following another car. He said he glanced at the traffic signal, saw it was changing, and applied his brakes, but too late to avoid hitting the truck.

Police described Davis' car as a total loss. There was damage to the right side of the truck, which is owned by Systems Construction Co. of Dallas, Tex. The firm has a contract for erection of a system for CATV of the Ohio Valley, Inc. Davis told Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff his attorney was busy in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon and could not attend the session this morning. The judge continued the motorist's case until Thursday at 9 a. m. His bond was set at $300. No one was injured in two other weekend collisions.

A 1961 four-door sedan was damaged heavily in a hit-skip crash Sunday at 12:39 p. m. on Dresden Ave. about 120 feet north of Moore St., officers said.

The parked car, owned by Anna Mae Warrick of 911 Dresden Ave., was struck by an auto which went out of control while southbound on a Dresden Ave. curve, police said.

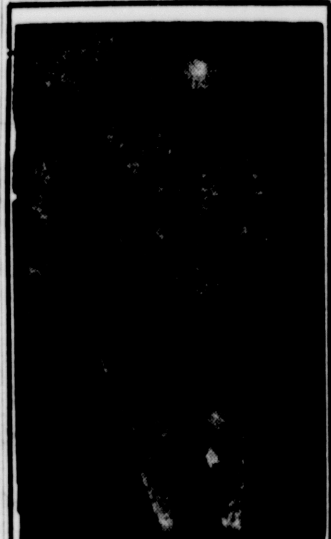

Officer Richard said the investigation still is pending.

He said the driver of the hit-skip car evidently lost control on the curve, traveling on a long diagonal line 170 feet across the highway and ramming the front of the parked auto. Then the offending driver backed his auto and fled the scene, the officer said.

A MINOR mishap Saturday at 5:02 p. m. on the A. & P. Market parking lot at Walnut St. and Bradshaw Ave. involved a 1962 two-door sedan driven by Donna Nola, 22, of Anderson Blvd. and a 1959 two-door sedan operated by Archie C. Palmer, 29, of Calcutta, officers said.

The woman said she was halted for an auto ahead when Palmer backed into the side of her car. Palmer reported the rear window of his auto was obscured by mist and he did not see the Nola car until he hit it.

The mishap damaged the right front door of the Nola car. There was no damage to Palmer's car, officers said.

Army Cracks Down

Guard Drill Dodgers Due Demotion Or Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is getting tougher with Reserves and National Guardsmen who dodge drills with their units, it was learned today.

Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, recently ordered demotion of any Reserve or National Guardsman ducking too many drills. The demotion would be for inefficiency.

Another part of Johnson's order provides that certain draft-age guardsmen and reservists who fail to keep up their obligated drills may be referred to Selective Service for two years of active duty.

The order specified that three unexcused absences in any year "are considered excessive."

The new penalties are in addition to an existing requirement that any guardsman or reservist failing a drilling obligation may be called to active duty for 45 days of training.

Most National Guardsmen and Reserves in the ready reserve are required to drill with their units 48 times a year. Men serving in the highest-priority units must attend 72 drills a year.

The demotion in rank, according to Johnson's order, will be imposed before a man begins his 45-day active duty training penalty.

There is special emphasis on National Guard and Reserve training currently because of the Viet Nam situation and, particularly in the case of highest-priority units, because of a drive to get a 150,000-man "select force" in top readiness by July 1.

The men who would be vulnerable for "priority induction" are Reserves or National Guardsmen below 26 years of age who have signed up for four to 10 months of basic training in a regular Army center, but who have not yet been able to undergo this training.

Because of overcrowded Army training centers, there currently is a backlog of more than 120,000 men obligated to serve with their Reserve or National Guard units for as much as 5½ years after their brief basic training.

While awaiting openings at Army training centers, these men now are required to drill with their Reserve and National Guard units. Meanwhile, they remain draft-free.

goal and is one-third more than was raised in the 1965 drive. Vodrey said he was extremely gratified by the overwhelming support which this year's drive achieved, as well as the generous help given by many businesses and organizations.

The Crucible Steel Co.'s Midland Works has pledged $1,600 to this year's goal, according to Rey Peduzzi, Midland area trustee for Dollars for Scholars. This is the second largest contribution received to date in the fund drive, exceeded only by a donation of $2,500 from the Patterson Division of Patterson Industries. Crucible has contributed $4,400, to CSF in the past three years, one of the finest records in the organization's history.

Sand Firestone of East Liverpool also was commended for his efforts in raising funds from local clubs and taverns.

Drowning Victim Still Hunted In Ambridge Region

AMBRIDGE — High water hampered search operations today for the body of a 14-year-old Ambridge boy who drowned in the rain-swollen Ohio River here Sunday despite the efforts of a companion to save him, police reported.

Fred Kerr was with a group of five other youngsters when he suddenly stripped off his clothes and dove into the river about 2 p. m. His companions told police that he surfaced and grasped a large piling.

Nick Markovich of Aliquippa quickly tore off his clothing and dove into the water, but young Kerr was apparently sucked away from the piling and disappeared. Markovich managed his way to shore and the youngsters ran two blocks to the Ambridge Police Department to report the tragedy.

Scuba divers from Beaver Falls and Ambridge joined with crewmen from local barge companies to search for the body.

Children's Play Attracts 450 At Westgate School

More than 450 attended the annual children's play, "King of the Golden River," presented by the City Federation of Women's Clubs Saturday afternoon at Westgate School.

The play was produced by Faye Parker's Merry Magic Players of the Pittsburgh Children's Theater.

Miss Kay Edwards, project chairman, was in charge of arrangements and the distribution of tickets to underprivileged children, whose admission was paid by club members.

Mrs. Sidney C. Porter Jr., president, said that proceeds will go toward the purchase of shoes and clothing for needy school children. It is the only fund-raising project of the year conducted by the club.

Would Boost Teachers' Pay

School Levy In New Test

For the second time in six months, East Liverpool School District residents will cast ballots Tuesday on a new 3.5-mill levy to provide funds for teachers' salary increases.

Voters in the 34 precincts in the city and all six precincts in Liverpool Township and the Glenmoor, Southwest and West precincts of St. Clair Township will vote on the levy, which would yield approximately $180,000 a year for the five-years it would be in effect.

A SIMILAR levy was rejected overwhelmingly last November.

EMERALD GRANDEUR

Unique in both beauty and value is the true, deeply glowing green emerald - a gem that in Pliny's time (A.D. 23-79) was considered more prized than a ruby. Considering that rubies were valued at about eight times that of a diamond in early days points up the regard in which emeralds were held.

The French call the tiny, minute flaws inside the emerald (a completely flawless emerald is one of the world's rarest gems) "en jardin" - the garden of the emerald. Ancient prized emeralds for their soothing effect on the eyes, as well as their rarity.

Much interest has been shown the past year by jewelers and customers alike in emerald-set jewelry. New synthetic emeralds on the market have done much to stimulate this interest. With the advent of synthetic emeralds, which closely rival the natural in appearance and chemical properties, more women are able to enjoy this lovely jewel. Synthetic emeralds should in no way be compared to imitation or simulated emeralds which are most often made of glass or other substances.

There are also some excellent small natural emeralds available to jewelry manufacturers, and these are seen in rings and bracelets often in combination with other stones such as diamonds and rubies. If your birthday is in May, you especially may be interested in emeralds, your lucky birthstone. Emeralds, either natural or synthetic, are available to wear in a number of fashionable ways. Let us help you select something that will be a lasting treasure.

her, polling only 27 per cent of the votes cast. The vote was 1,906 for and 5,206 against. Only a majority was needed for passage.

In contrast to previous campaigns, a quiet drive has been conducted to urge residents to approve the tax increase so the district can make salaries more competitive, obtain quality teachers and reduce the turnover of the staff.

The Board of Education voted unanimously in March to place the levy on the ballot again after the Citizens Committee for Better Schools urged resubmission, questioning whether residents realized the implications of the rejection in November.

"Unless some holding power develops between now and September" many teachers will leave the district this year, Supl. Paul Blair said, explaining that 30 teachers left the system a year ago.

Terming the situation critical, the superintendent pointed out East Liverpool has trailed most districts in Northeastern Ohio in salaries, but had been able to compete with neighboring districts. "Now even our neighbors are leaving us behind," he declared.

East Liverpool's present salary schedule ranges from $4,300 to $6,100 for teachers with bachelor's degrees and from $4,500 to $6,500 for master's degrees.

During the discussion with the board, the superintendent contrasted higher salaries paid in other districts. In addition, Beaver Local recently approved increases for next year.

ONLY ABOUT $160,000 would be available each year for increases because of deductions for the board's share of retirement payments, workmen's compensation and for the county auditor's and treasurer's fees for collection.

No amount for proposed increases has been specified, but a year ago the Ohio Education Association's research division said "at least 3.3 mills" would be required to raise the maximum for a bachelor's degree to $7,100 and the master's maximum to $7,550.

School officials point out, "Most teachers are dedicated and recognize that they are not going to become wealthy in this profession, but you can be just as dedicated in another school district and make $500 to $1,500 more a year while doing it."

"Without more money we are going to be employing more people who lack adequate training and experience. In other words, we have to hire more people who have been turned down by districts with better pay. We don't think you want this kind of education for your child."

Ravenna Motorist Fined After Crash On Freeway

A Portage County man cited after a collision early Saturday on the California Hollow section of the Freeway was fined $15 and costs today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of improper backing, but a district motorist cited in the same mishap was found not guilty after a hearing.

Brenton Arbogast of Ravenna was penalized by the court after he pleaded "no contest" on a charge filed by Patrolman Howard E. Frontz. Police said his car was involved in a collision at 3:27 a. m. with an auto operated by Robert John Prescott, 20, of Calcutta. Prescott was charged with failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

FRONTZ ALSO testified in Prescott's case after the defendant pleaded not guilty. The judge found Prescott not guilty and dismissed the charge.

Officers reported Arbogast was backing on the four-lane highway, intending to drive through a break in the guard rails. Prescott said he swerved when he saw the other driver backing, but was unable to avoid a collision.

The judge granted a continuance until May 9 in the case of David L. Graham of 147 W. 3rd St., charged with operating an auto without a driver's license. Graham said he once held a West Virginia permit, but admitted he has lived in Ohio for eight months. The court granted the continuance to permit him to obtain an Ohio permit.

Graham also was ordered to pay the court costs of $7.50 on a charge of driving an auto with an illegal muffler. He was cited on both counts Saturday at 8:20 p. m. on E. 4th St. by Patrolman Paul Blevins, officers said.

THE JUDGE ordered a 30-day suspension of the driver's license of Peter J. Pease of 630 Henry Ave., Wellsville, who pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding 85 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on W. 8th St. He also was fined $20 and costs after entering a guilty plea. Pease was cited Thursday at 11 p. m. on Route 7 by the State Highway Patrol.

Leon Jeeter of Weirton, arrested Friday by local police on W. 8th St., drew a fine of $10 and costs after he pleaded guilty to driving 43 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone.

Three others forfeited bonds on speeding charges. Richard Anderson of Painesville, cited Saturday at 10:14 p. m. on a charge of driving 50 miles an hour in a 35-mile zone on St. Clair Ave., forfeited a $22.50 bond.

Ted Chond, 49, of Youngstown forfeited $32.50 on a charge of driving 75 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone on Route 30. He was cited Thursday at 7 p. m. by the patrol.

Joseph Claypool of Karns City, Pa., forfeited a $17.50 bond. He was cited by the patrol Thursday at 11 p. m. on a charge of driving 70 miles an hour in a 50-mile zone.

Driver Will Face Hearing When He Leaves Hospital

A city motorist will face hearings on three traffic violations when he is released from City Hospital, where he was admitted early Sunday after his car struck four parked vehicles on Wells Ave., Wellsville.

Larry Brewer of 222 W. 3rd St. suffered lacerations of the face in the mishap timed Sunday at 12:01 a. m.

Police he was headed east on Wells Ave. when his car struck parked vehicles owned by George Tepovich of 448 Virginia Ave., Midland, Harvey McCaulley Jr. of 428 Broadway, Wellsville, Walter M. West of Toronto and William Boyce of 313 Broadway, Wellsville.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: This is my mother's ingenious idea. When the cardboard linings in jar caps get moldy, stained or worn, use one of them as a pattern, place it on top of a coffee can plastic lid, cut around the pattern, and presto... a new lid liner.

LINDA KADUBEC.

Your mother deserves a kiss. Go give it to her from us all.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Just took a "grandocious" shower. Do you know why?

I read in your column about how you put a sponge inside an old nylon stocking, tying each end and cutting the ends off.

Before I tied up the last loose end, I added all my slivers of soap and then tied it up.

Try it and I bet, like me, you will be sneaking up to take a shower whenever you have a free moment. What a lovely shower!

I even made an extra one also for my household cleaning.

"SIS."

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: I have been making up my own frozen dinners for several months now and out of this practice something else has evolved. I'm losing weight, much to my delight!

No seconds on the table to reach for, and soon the old appetite trims down, too!

MARGARET BEEVERS.

DEAR GALS: Know those plastic hair curlers with clamp-style tubes that fit over them?

Instead of pulling the clamp off the roller before setting your hair, just put your finger inside the roller and pull it out from one end.

Saves temper, fingernails and time when it comes hair-rolling-up time. Besides, it doesn't stretch the clamps and they last longer and hold better.

They're a smash? If your clamps are sprung, put them in a pan of hot faucet water, let set a few minutes, then squeeze back into shape. They tighten up beautifully.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: So often I have heard persons who have had a home fire loss comment that a most prized possession, the family picture album, was gone forever.

To safeguard our family against such a misfortune, each time I have good snapshots made, I send the labeled folder of negatives to my Mother.

She keeps them filed so that at any time I can have copies made of my original pictures.

DIXIE POWELL.

DEAR HELOISE: After making mush, put it in clean vegetable and fruit cans.

When cold, cut out other end of can and push mush out.

Real easy, and you can cut nice smooth slices of mush.

MRS. B. H.

DEAR HELOISE: The plastic pill bottles with lids are good for holding pins, needles, bobby pins, keeping matches dry outdoors when camping or fishing, and storing fish hooks, weights and flies.

SHIRLEY UMSTED.

DEAR HELOISE: I have found a way to brighten up those dull flower pots.

When I was watering my indoor plants I had a brainstorm—I tried waxing a pot (with floor polish) and it worked. The pot brightened up so I did the rest of them.

The terra-cotta flower pots looked best.

MARTHA LUSSIER.

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Ohio Elks Honor Warren Resident

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Elks clubs named Nick Kovic of Warren the Ohio Elk of the Year at their annual convention over the weekend. Walter G. Springmyer of Cincinnati was elected Elks state president.

Kovic, a Warren real estate man, was praised for his long-time interest in youth work. Also honored was a Columbus Elk, John J. (Jack) Cannon, a former Notre Dame football great. He also is a member of the football hall of fame.

The Dover lodge won the state ritualistic contest and will represent Ohio in the national finals at Dallas, Tex., in July.

The winners of Elk-sponsored youth leadership contests were also announced. They received cash awards.

First place winners were Donald Ford Bobby of Elyria and Melanie Krichbaum of Galton, who received $500 apiece. Robert Ray Jester of Carroll and Jane Ann Steinman of Kenton were second and got $300 awards. John Nick Marzella of Shadyside and Kathy Ann Kennedy of Dover were third and received $100 prizes.

Sen. Javits Bows Out Of Governor Contest

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits has formally bowed out as a possible contender for the New York governorship this year and says he will "vigorously" support Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in his bid for a third four-year term.

The Republican senator, who is 61, made the declaration at a news conference Sunday. He left open the possibility that he might seek his party's nomination for president in 1968.

East Palestine Patrolman Quits

EAST PALESTINE — Patrolman Wayne Huston, a member of the police force since 1960, has resigned, Mayor Robert Harding announced today.

The mayor said the resignation was effective Saturday night, when he worked his last shift.

Huston, who was appointed to the department in February 1960, has accepted full-time employment at a Columbiana automobile agency, where he has been working several years as a part-time salesman.

This creates two vacancies on the force, Clifford Davis having resigned several months ago.

There are two men on the eligibility list, but no appointments have been made yet, Harding said.

100 At Fire School

EAST PALESTINE — One hundred attended the final session of a regional fire school held here Sunday. The Columbiana County Firemen's Association was in charge.

Aliquippa Man Jailed After Driving Charge

NEW CUMBERLAND — Dale C. Gilmore, 32, of Aliquippa was committed to the Hancock County jail Saturday in default of payment of $500 bond after being charged with driving while intoxicated by West Virginia State Police.

He is scheduled for a hearing Wednesday before Squire John D. Herron. He was arrested on State Route 2, north of Weirton.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP) — New York's Mayor John V. Lindsay sent in his wife as a substitute for himself Sunday in a softball game against a press-corps team called "The Power Brokers."

"Here, you should have Mary on the team, she's the best player around," Lindsay said.

But she went hitless as he had before her — both grounding out weakly to the infield.

Despite their showing, however, the "Lindsay Lancers" squeezed out a 10-9 victory.

NEW YORK (AP) — Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy, mother of the late president, took part Sunday in groundbreaking ceremonies for a center for mental retardation and human development named in her honor.

The site of the 10-story center is adjacent to the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York's Bronx.

Mrs. Kennedy, 75, said that as a mother of a mentally retarded child she was thinking "of the millions of children who will come here in future years filled with high hopes and great expectations."

TOKYO (AP) — Dr. Theodore L. Bliss, a surgeon of Akron, Ohio, was decorated in Tokyo today. He is credited with saving thousands of Japanese prisoners during World War II.

Bliss, 65, received the Third Order of Merit, with the Medium Cordon of the Rising Sun.

MOSCOW (AP) — Abie Nathan, the Tel Aviv restaurant owner appealing to world leaders for peace mediation efforts in the Middle East, left Moscow for Paris today after failing to see Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin.

PALL MALL, Tenn. (AP) — When the nation honors its war dead on Memorial Day this month, a 12-foot-high cross will mark the hillside resting place of Sgt. Alvin C. York, one of America's greatest heroes.

The monument is being erected by York's family, who are going into debt in order to pay for the $5,000 marble and granite marker.

Sukarno Due More Curbs On Authority

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The long dormant Indonesian Parliament met today amid speculation that it would lay the groundwork for moves to curb President Sukarno's powers further.

During a meeting of less than one hour, the group formed two committees to study political and economic questions and submit recommendations to Indonesia's other legislative body, the Provisional People's Consultative Congress. It is to meet in 10 days.

The talk in Parliament today had an unusual flavor of independence. One speaker said they should show Sukarno that "we are not below the president but beside him." Another proposed an elected chairman to replace the one appointed by Sukarno.

About 2,000 students massed under banners and flags and chanted at the doors of the building. They presented a statement to Brig. Gen. Sjarif Thijeb, the deputy speaker, demanding the election of a new Parliament. The 135 deputies of the current Parliament were appointed by Sukarno in 1960 and have acted as one of his rubber stamps.

The chairman, Y. Subania, did not attend the session. A delegate said Subania was not feeling well.

Student leaders and other sources say the consultative congress may remove Sukarno's title as "president for life" and "great leader of the revolution." The student groups, who have taken an increasingly anti-Sukarno tone recently, have warned both legislative bodies that they will be watched closely.

After demonstrating outside Parliament, the students stormed the government television station next door and covered it with slogans attacking the station manager. They said the station was influenced by leftist elements of the Indonesian Nationalist party.

Woman Hurt As Cars Ram

A Wellsville woman remains in "fairly good" condition today at City Hospital with contusions and possible spinal injuries suffered in an auto crash at 3rd St. and Carolina Ave. in Chester Saturday night.

Jeannie Pittenger, 38, of 1107 Riverside Ave. had stopped her car for the traffic light at the intersection when it was struck from behind by an auto driven by John D. Binegar, 41, of Wellsville R.D. 1.

Binegar told Joseph Cornell, investigating patrolman, that the brakes on his auto failed. He posted $20 bond preliminary to a hearing after being charged with failure to have his vehicle under control.

The accident was timed at 8 by Cornell.

Leader Selected By Ohio Synod In Weekend Session

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The moderator of the 694-church 86th Synod of Ohio of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. for the next year will be the Rev. James L. Hill, Zanesville pastor.

The Rev. Mr. Hill defeated the Rev. Winton H. Halsted of Cincinnati in voting at the Synod meeting over the weekend for the denomination's chief elected officer.

In other business, the Synod voted to employ 13 field staff persons to develop mission strategy around the state, and named a field consultant for each region:

Miss Madeline A. Johnson, southwest (Cincinnati-Dayton-Springfield); the Rev. E. Stanley Kreider, northwest-central (Columbus-Toledo-Wooster); the Rev. John D. McDowell, northeast (Cleveland-Akron-Youngstown); and the Rev. Roland Kamm, southeast (Steubenville-Cambridge-Athens).

Delegates voted to propose an annual budget of $1,002,975, to be supported by giving of $651,505 by the Ohio Presbyterian Churches to Synod Mission and $351,470 by the General Assembly General Mission.

The Synod also voted to dissolve its Commission on Religion and Race as of June 30. The commission, created two years ago, recommended that its work be taken over by the newly established Department of Evangelism and Social Witness in which the two consultants begin work July 1.

Connor Sees No Tax Need For Present

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor assured the U.S. Chamber of Commerce today he sees no need for an anti-inflationary tax increase now.

Connor told the opening session of the chamber's 54th annual meeting that the economic signs are not cause for "undue alarm, any more than they are cause for complacency."

"I think they indicate that we must be especially watchful and ready to act if necessary, but they do not in my opinion call for drastic measures on an emergency basis at this time," he said in an address prepared for 4,500 delegates and guests.

Connor backed President Johnson's plea that business slow its plant expansion by deferring less-essential projects "until we are through this period when excessive pressures must be avoided."

Postponed outlays, the secretary said, "could be reactivated next year or later on at a time when they would be needed to maintain adequate economic growth."

"We hope that after the middle of this year we will be able to level off our defense spending and thus help to slow down total demand," he added.

The secretary thus took much the same position as that of the chamber's president-elect, M. A. Wright, whose election was announced Sunday, told reporters he opposes a tax increase.

Wright said businessmen have done well in holding prices down and have added so enormously to productive capacity that an enlarged outpouring of goods may diminish scarcities and price pressures.

"It's my hope that within six months or so we will find the situation righting itself, with the help of the voluntary restraints and the monetary measures taken," Wright said. "I believe we will find the inflation problem lessening."

Police Probe 4 City Thefts

East Liverpool police today are continuing investigation of four minor thefts reported over the weekend, along with a case of vandalism.

Mrs. Mary Blackmore of 1254 Pennsylvania Ave. told officers an intruder forced entry to the Blackmore Refrigeration Co. building at 1254 Pennsylvania Ave. Saturday night or Sunday morning and stole assorted sizes of copper tubing in 10- and 20-foot lengths, valued at a total of $200. She said the entry was gained by forcing a cellar door between 9:30 p. m. Saturday and 11 a. m. Sunday.

Harry Prescott, manager of the Community Auto Sales lot at Pennsylvania Ave. and Maple St., reported to police Saturday 16 electric light bulbs were stolen Friday night or Saturday. In addition, the thief took a battery cable and a gasoline tank cap from a 1960 model car, he said.

George Clutter of 812 12th St., Wellsville, told officers an Ohio license plate L-771-F was stolen from his auto Friday night or Saturday while the car was parked on W. 2nd St. Reporting the theft early Saturday afternoon, he said he had loaned the auto to Norman McCoy of W. 2nd St.

Elsie Scibilia of 130 Ravine St. told officers Sunday afternoon a lawnmower was stolen from a vacant home at 1056 Claiborne St. She said the thief gained entry by breaking a 24-x-24-inch window.

The vandalism was reported Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gibson of 822 State St. They said they heard a disturbance in the front yard at their home about 1 a. m. When checking about 8 a. m., they discovered vandals had removed their mail box and torn down a trellis, along with some rose bushes, officers said.

Gibson said he found the damaged mailbox and post approximately 75 feet away.

Texas Pair Wins Fast Gun Contest

STANTON, Mo. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Bob Graham may be the fastest guns in the West — or anywhere else, for that matter.

The Houston, Tex., couple proved Sunday in the National Fast Draw Association's world championship that they are the fastest guns around.

Graham, 31, a bespectacled bank-equipment salesman, won his second straight world championship. He averaged .45 of a second — drawing, shooting and hitting targets — in the contest's four classes.

His wife, Merrill, 21, a long-haired blonde who looks as good as she shoots, won the women's title with an average drawing and shooting time of .61 of a second. Her fastest was .44.

"I can give the average person a pistol, have him cock it and point it at me and draw and fire before he can," said Graham who uses a modern plastic-lined holster for the old Western sport of gunslinging.

Officials Set Autopsy In Ohio Baby's Death

CINCINNATI (AP)—An autopsy has been ordered on the body of an infant that was found Sunday in a wooded area.

Police say Carl Seymour of Chillicothe discovered the remains while looking for mushrooms.

And She Did!

TRENTON, Mo. (AP) — A woman called a business office here and asked to speak to her son-in-law. A girl in the office said: "I don't believe he can talk to you. He has laryngitis." The mother-in-law answered: "He doesn't need to talk. I'll do the talking."

John Bromby Will Retire As Fireman Here

John D. Bromby, a fireman for 26 years, has made application to retire on a disability pension, asking to be relieved from duty as of Thursday.

The Firemen's Pension Board must act on the request, according to Asst. Chief Frank Butler, chairman of the board. He said the board may meet Wednesday night.

Bromby has been ill for six months.

He completed his 26th year on the department on April 8. Prior to joining the department, he was employed at the Golden Star Dairy.

Bromby, who resides with his wife at 929 Montgomery Ave., is uncertain of his future plans, but, among other things, expects to visit his three daughters and six grandchildren. The daughters reside in Pittsburgh, Cleveland and in North Carolina.

Bromby's retirement creates a second vacancy on the department. The first resulted when Butler won a promotional examination last week for the post of assistant chief.

Family-Tree Trouble

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — A 20-year-old man was fined $35 in court here on charges of slashing the tires on a parked car. Police said the car belonged to his mother-in-law.

Fire And Blast Claim Child, 9, At Cincinnati

CINCINNATI (AP)—The toll from an explosion and fire that destroyed a house at nearby Camp Springs, Ky., last Monday night stands at two with the death of Janice Ann Schooler, 9.

Janice had gone into the house with its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pelle, a few minutes before the explosion which firemen say may have been caused by gas. Mrs. Lillian Pelle, 73, died Thursday and Janice died Sunday.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: You were wrong, wrong, wrong when you said people should have ash trays around for guests who smoke even if they don't smoke themselves.

Why? To encourage the filthy habit? Ash trays are an invitation to smoke. When there are no ash trays a guest should take the hint.

We have no ash trays in our home because we don't want people to smoke. If a guest asks if he may light up we tell him (as politely as we can) to take his cigarettes outside. He can like it or lump it.

I happen to know you are a non-smoker, Ann, and that you have repeatedly spoken out against tobacco. In a recent column you told a teen-ager, "Smoking is a dirty, offensive, expensive, ugly habit and we now have indisputable evidence that it is damaging to health. Don't start."

Why did you suddenly abandon this stand? Please explain. —DEEPLY DISAPPOINTED.

Dear Deeply: You are right.

I was wrong. I plead temporary insanity and recommend that my punishment be 10 lashes with a wet tobacco leaf. When there are no ash trays in sight a guest should indeed take the hint.

You are correct when you say I'm a militant anti-cigarette girl. I blast the weed whenever I can—in fact I've been accused of being a bit of a nut on the subject. I know someone who is even nuttier than I am and I'm going to print part of his column which appeared in the Minneapolis Tribune. The writer is Will Jones. This is what he had to say:

"An open letter from a Non-smoker to All Smokers: Having trouble kicking the habit? Well, I'm sick of hearing about it. I'm sick of the whining and hawing and yapping about the surgeon general's report. I'm bored with all the jokes about the trouble you're having trying to give up cigarettes.

"For 40 years I've lived in a world dominated by smokers. I've complained very little. I've accepted the fact that this is a smokers' world. But I'm through being quiet about it.

"Do you know how you smokers look to those of us who don't smoke? You are ill-bred, ill-mannered, inconsiderate slob. You may think you look glamorous like the smokers in the ads and the movies, but you don't. You have a nasty habit and you look ridiculous. Furthermore you stink. Your clothes stink, your breath stinks and you stink up the whole world around you.

"I play a little game with women who expect me to light their cigarettes. I out - wait them. Some give up and light their own. Others ask for a light. Last night one babe said, 'Well, aren't you going to light my cigarette?' I replied, 'No. I'd rather you didn't smoke.' She lit up anyway and that got me mad. I grabbed the cigarette out of her mouth, snuffed it out and tore it to shreds.

"Do you think I'm rude?" I asked. "Yes," she answered. "I'm not half as rude as you," I told her.

"I've had it up to here with sore, red eyes caused by other people's smoke. I've had it up to here with burned rugs and floors and furniture because of slob who not only are slaves to a habit but are so fumble-fingered they can't even handle it. And unless you smoke in absolute fire-proof privacy, with other smokers, you are intolerable. You are the enemy."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Flames Claim 2 In Pennsylvania

TAMAQUA, Pa. (AP) — Two people have been killed and several others injured in a fire at the Keller Hotel in downtown Tamaqua.

The bodies of John Kastrava, in his late 60s, and Kenneth Spayd, 70, were found in their rooms. Firemen said they apparently had been overcome by smoke.

Firemen, using ladders, rescued 15 others in the blaze Sunday night.

Benjamin Scholsser, 73, an occupant of the hotel, was admitted to Coaldale State General Hospital with head, neck and shoulder burns. His condition was described as fair.

Fireman James Kunkel, 32, of Tamaqua, was admitted to the hospital after being felled by dense smoke. Another fireman was treated for smoke inhalation.

Firemen said the blaze started in the men's room on the first floor and swept up the stairs to the third floor. About 200 firemen battled the blaze for three hours before controlling it.

Diplomat's Appraisal

South Viet Nam Termed Area Of 'Chaos, Despair'

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "There is no Viet Nam south of the 17th Parallel," said the highly placed Western diplomat. "There is only chaos, despair and unending struggle."

The diplomat's grim appraisal of the situation in South Viet Nam clashed with the official U.S. line but coincided with the views of many other diplomats and observers.

"South Viet Nam today is not a country," he said. "It is a group of feuding religious groups, of defiant warlords, of generals refusing to obey the orders of Saigon, of entire areas under Communist control, of political parties and groupings none of which can exercise a determining influence."

"Only the presence of Americans holds it together."

"The United States must remain here. How and for how long, I don't know. But its departure from here would mean an immediate disaster."

American planners are hopeful that South Viet Nam can be forged politically in elections promised this summer. Most other diplomats and observers believe that elections are not possible in this nation at war — and that a valid vote could not result.

The country has more than 70 political parties, none of them large enough to take a determined lead.

The Buddhists, often described as one of the strongest political forces, are divided into three main quarreling factions. The Hoa Hoa and Cao Dai religious sects also demand influence, but they are limited to two small regions of the country without impact on the rest. A simmering revolt of the Montagnard tribesmen openly defies the central government.

The Catholics, about 15 per cent of Viet Nam's 15 million people, are ready to defend their rights.

VOTE FOR ROBERT L. HAYS FOR STATE SENATOR OHIO DISTRICT 30

The primary election is only a day away and I am sure that you have given great consideration to the candidate that you would like to have represent you in the 30th Senatorial district.

I would like to introduce myself. I am Robert L. Hays, Democratic candidate for the 30th Senatorial seat. My education has been entirely in this district. I attended the College of Steubenville, majoring in Political Science and studied law through the Blackstone School of Law in Chicago, Illinois. Therefore I feel I have the qualification and experience by being President of the largest school district in southeastern Ohio, Steubenville Board of Education and also President of the Steubenville Recreation Board. Both of these positions involve millions of dollars and great responsibility to the public.

The greatest problem confronting the people of Ohio today is the lack of state support to local school districts, although there are many other problems. I feel that the right approach by the legislators in supporting and resolving the school problems will help to resolve the other great problems confronting our state of Ohio.

Thanking you and hoping for your support, I remain,

Respectfully yours,
Robert L. Hays

Marion Heck Is Second In North-South

Marion Heck of Fort Myers, Fla. and formerly of Columbia finished second in the North and South Amateur Golf Championship Saturday at Pinehurst, N. C.

Heck, who was one up mid-way through Saturday's final round, was overtaken by Ward Wettlaufer of Atlanta, Ga., who won 4 and 2.

The 26-year-old Heck trailed after the first five holes Saturday but birdied the eighth and ninth and won the 10th with par to go 2 up. Heck was one up when the morning round ended as Wettlaufer came on strong in the afternoon.

Wettlaufer is a former member of the Walker Cup team.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sam McDowell grins and bears it: "No hit games are 100 per cent luck. It's as simple as that."

The Cleveland Indians south-paw has pitched two one-hitters in seven days, tying a major league record shared by Lon Warneke, Walker Cooper and Whitey Ford.

Both hits were poppers to right field.

McDowell (4-0) beat the Chicago White Sox Sunday, 1-0, but Don Buford spoiled the no-hitter with a double that hit on the infield.

First baseman Fred Whitfield was holding Tommie Agee close to the bag and said, "I would have caught it. That's where I play when there's nobody on base."

McDowell beat the Kansas City Athletics 2-0, on April 25 and Jose Tartabull's single spoiled that one.

Sunday's game was the Indians' 11th victory in 12 games. They scored the lone run in the second inning when Pedro Gonzalez doubled and Larry Brown singled.

Catcher Del Crandall, who has handled McDowell in each of the four victories, said "he

Orioles Win 10th In Row

"I'll say this," Crandall continued, "I've never seen his slider any better. He still was strong as ever at the finish. As a matter of fact, I haven't seen him tired yet."

On Buford's hit, Crandall said "it was a fast ball that jammed him. It was a good pitch, probably just about where Sam wanted it."

The other AL teams played doubleheaders and all split. Minnesota lost to Washington 5-3, then pulled out of its tailspin whipped Boston 6-1 but the Red Sox winning 3-1. California blanked New York 1-0 before the Yankees drubbed the A's 10-4.

Boog Powell hit a two-run homer for the Orioles in the fourth inning and Brooks Robinson stroked a two-run single in the fifth. That was enough as Steve Barber and Dick Hall kept eight Tiger hits well scattered.

Don Lock drove home three runs with a homer and a single for the Senators in the opener and they held on behind reliever Casey Cox despite homers by Earl Battey and Harmon Killebrew.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant won the nightcap for the Twins, who had lost seven of their previous eight games. Grant allowed eight hits but drove in two runs with a second-inning single.

Joe Adcock, Jim Fregosi and Jack Warner unloaded homers as the Angels whipped the Red Sox in the opener. But Jerry Stephenson handcuffed the Californians in the nightcap, becoming the first Boston pitcher this season to complete a game as he scattered nine hits.

The A's won their opener behind Rollie Sheldon's three-hitter. Ozzie Chavarria's double and a single by Ken Suarez produced the game's only run off Whitey Ford in the sixth inning.

The nightcap was another story as the Yankees overcame a 4-2 deficit with a six-run sixth inning explosion triggered by Roy White's homer. Lou Clinton's two-run single, a two-run double by Jake Gibbs and a run-scoring single by Bobby Richardson wrapped it up.

Has Broken Bone With Graustark Out, Derby Is Wide Open

By ORLO ROBERTSON
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — With Graustark sidelined by a broken bone, Saturday's running of the $125,000-added Kentucky Derby shaped up today as a wide-open scramble with at least four colts vying for the favorite's role.

There are about 20 3-year-olds either at Churchill Downs or enroute who can be listed as possible starters in the 1 1/4-mile race. However, the list may be trimmed to 14 or even 12 by the weather, Tuesday's Derby Trial and owners' unwillingness to part with the $1,500 necessary to get a horse into the starting line-up.

Entries for the first of the Triple Crown series, which also includes the Preakness and Belmont Stakes, will be made Thursday morning. Post time Saturday is 5:45 p. m., EDT.

Graustark was taken out of the race Sunday by Trainer Loyd Gentry when X-rays showed the son of Ribot had a fractured bone just above the hoof of his left foreleg.

Graustark's failure to make the Big One also did away with any possibility of a clash between the two most talked of horses of 1965.

Buckpasser, the other, is convalescing from a quarter-crack. He took the Flamingo this year following a 2-year-old campaign which carried him to the juvenile title.

Graustark was unbeaten in his first seven races, three last year, but was beaten by Abe's Hope in the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland last Thursday.

The Derby flogger Filberts lost no time going to work on the remainder of the field. They came up with Abe's Hope, owned by John Bartell and Robert Byfield of Chicago, as the probable 5-2 choice.

Abe's Hope has not run a bad race this year. The Illinois-bred son of Better Bee had Buckpasser beaten in the Flamingo only to lose in the final stride. He finished first in the Florida Derby but was disqualified and placed fourth.

Bill Shoemaker, winner of three Derbies, will ride Abe's Hope — a factor that figures to draw financial support from the usual crowd of more than 100,000.

Michael Ford's Kauai King, rated by Gentry as good enough to beat Buckpasser, is the probable second choice at 3-1. Gentry trained the son of Native Dancer last year. He wound up his Derby prep with a victory in Bowie's Governor's Gold Cup.

Right behind Kauai King in the calculations come Reginald Webster's Amberoid, winner of the Wood Memorial, and Mrs. H.C. Phipps' Stupendous.

Stupendous gets into the Derby because of a second thought. Trainer Eddie Ney announced nearly two weeks ago that the Wheatley Colt would not be a Derby starter. But Mrs. Phipps had a change of mind three days ago and the son of Bold Ruler arrived late Sunday afternoon as rain pelted the Downs for the 14th straight day.

The forecast, however, called for clearing skies by Tuesday and fair weather the remainder of the week.

William G. Helis Jr.'s Sky Guy, who has showed little except speed, was listed as a probable starter when Trainer Jimmy Combest asked for stall space. He is due from New York within a day or so.

Several hopefuls, headed by Exhibitionist, Advocate, Florida Derby winner Williamstown Kid and Dominar are expected to get their final pre-Derby tests in the one-mile Derby Trial.

Prior to serving at Coshocton, Bell coached football and golf for one year at Eastwood High School located near Bowling Green.

Baker said six applications had been received for the post. Bell will be given the task of lifting Southern Local out of two straight losing seasons when the Indians only won two games in two campaigns.

Our little airline no longer is.

We can still remember the days when we would say, "Fly Lake Central Airlines," and people would ask, "Lake who?"

They're gone, those days.

Today we'll fly you at least one hundred miles an hour faster than we've ever flown you before. On new French prop-jet Nords, and Convairs converted to prop-jets.

Next year we'll fly you twice as fast on our all-jet jets.

You can expect more one-stop flights on old multi-stop routes, too. And cocktails and snacks on every flight.

On the ground or in the air, something somewhere has changed at Lake Central.

If nothing else, it's the whole concept of "little."

Little? We're spending $20 million in the next three years to make a First Class flight out of every one of our flights.

Not too bad for a former Little Leaguer.

Milwaukee, Atlanta Discussion Scheduled

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The Milwaukee-Atlanta situation was to be discussed at a special meeting of the National League late this afternoon, a day before the two major leagues hold a joint session.

Although Wisconsin circuit court judge Elmer Roller ordered the Braves to return to Milwaukee May 18 if the league had not made expansion plans for 1967, including Milwaukee, by May 16, there was no indication of any immediate expansion.

"Expansion will be discussed," said league president Warren Giles before leaving his Cincinnati home. "I do not anticipate any action will be taken at this meeting."

"We will hear the report of our counsel on the Wisconsin case. It may be necessary to have another meeting before May 16."

Giles said the league would consider the report of the players' association and other matters, such as a proposed trip to Japan by the Los Angeles Dodgers, which will come up for discussion at the joint meeting Tuesday morning, called by Commissioner William Eckert.

It had been reported that the state of Georgia is considering filing suit directly to the U.S. Supreme Court against the state of Wisconsin to expedite a final decision on the Braves.

The Wisconsin court ruled April 13 that the Braves and the National League had violated Wisconsin's antitrust laws and their refusal to issue a franchise to Milwaukee County was restraint of trade and commerce.

However, a Georgia court has issued a permanent injunction calling on the Braves and the league to fulfill a 25-year contract for use of the new stadium in Atlanta.

The entire matter almost certainly will wind up in the U.S. Supreme Court sooner or later.

Guest Takes First Prize In Texas Open

By PAUL RECER

Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—

Harold Henning came to play in the Texas Open as a guest and stayed to win the championship and $13,000.

The 31-year-old Henning, a South African citizen, can play in United States PGA tournaments by special invitation only.

His guest status didn't keep him from tearing apart the Oak Hills Country Club course by posting an eight-under par 272, three strokes ahead of Gene Littler, Wes Ellis and Ken Still.

Henning staged a two-round charge, coming from deep in the pack to tie for third place Saturday and finishing in a burst Sunday. He shot rounds of 72, 67, 65 and 68 over the 6,715-yard par-70 course.

Gene Littler, who led after the first and third rounds, faded quickly in the final.

Littler, Ellis and Still tied for second place at 215, each collecting $5,433.

Tied for fifth place, with 276, were Jay Hebert, Terry Dill and Dave Marr. They received $3,333 each.

Henning, an international champion, is little known in the United States. As a foreign citizen, he cannot join the U.S. PGA but may play in PGA tournaments with an approved player card or at the invitation of the sponsors of specific tournaments.

He lost his approved player card two years ago when he failed to play in the required 10 tournaments.

Case, an Indiana native, came to N.C. State in 1946 shortly after he got out of the Navy after World War II. State had just suffered three losing seasons.

'Stage '67' A Best Bet

Nobody envies Hubbell Robinson, executive producer for ABC-TV's coming new "Stage '67" series of weekly shows. He's in a spot as tough as that of a pinch hitter in the bottom of the ninth whose team is down to its last out and behind by one run in the final game of the World Series.

Hal Humphrey

He can hit a home run and be a hero or fly out and be the bum blamed for blowing the old ball game.

Of the 40 or more new programs scheduled by the three networks for next season, "Stage '67" is the only one not standardized after one of TV's stereotyped formats for corny comedy, dreadful drama or vapid vaudeville.

EVEN THE RESIGNING FCC chairman, E. William Henry, gave ABC a pat on the head in his recent speech at the broadcasters' convention for having in "Stage '67" a "notable exception" to the existing patterns.

It must be said for producer Robinson that such pressure has not caused him to panic or search for the sure things. None of the 26 hour-long shows comprising "Stage '67" (now in production or completed) is an adaptation or revival.

Robinson has turned down ideas and personalities for his mixed collection of shows that no doubt will pop up elsewhere as "specials."

"I didn't turn them down because they weren't good ideas, but I simply felt they didn't fit our desire to be different.

"FOR EXAMPLE," Robinson elaborates, "we were offered a day in the life of Brigitte Bardot in Paris, but TV has had Sophia Loren in Rome and Liz Taylor in London, so it would be going over tired ground in a way."

"A day in the life of Sandy Koufax and the far-reaching effect that just the fact he is to pitch on a particular day will have on various people—hot dog vendors, traffic police and so on—was another idea, and a good one for a TV show, but again I felt it already had been done to some extent in a TV documentary on Willie Mays."

A play on Sigmund Freud ("A Far Country"), which had moderate success on Broadway a few years ago, also could have been on the Stage '67 schedule except that Robinson had decided he did not want revivals.

HE DOES NOT DENY, of course, that some cold week next December or January he may look at his Nielsen rating and wish Miss Bardot and Koufax were costarred in a "Stage '67" story about a sexpot and a pitcher saving a TV producer from a nervous breakdown by suggesting he revive a drama based on Freud.

Among Robinson's "Stage '67" potpourri of shows are nine dramas, two that could qualify as comedy-drama, three comedies with music, three documentary-type music and seven musicals.

"The Kennedy Wit" is a particular look into the late President Kennedy's sense of humor and how he used it. Jack Paar narrates this one and Bill Adler, author of two books on this side of Kennedy, has written it.

OTHER "STAGE '67" properties include an original comedy by Murray Schisgal, author of "Luv," with the star of that same play, Alan Arkin.

There also is "A Christmas Memory" by Truman Capote starring Geraldine Page and a dance history of America by Arthur Laurents, who wrote "West Side Story."

Robinson hopes "Stage '67" will bring back something which hasn't existed in connection with TV for several years—viewers talking the next day about what they saw on their sets the night before.

"I don't think this has happened since CBS had 'Playhouse 90,'" says Robinson, who can take a large measure of credit for that series, since he was v.p. in charge of CBS programs at the time. "Most of us can't even remember what we've seen on TV now by the time we go to bed."

HE DOES NOT CARE to discuss the schizophrenic complexity of his new employers, ABC, and the paradox of their doing "Batman" and some of the other lower-grade stuff seen on TV today.

"I don't care about that, as long as I'm free to do something like 'Stage '67,' and I believe ABC is willing to be venturesome," says the man who went back to CBS four years ago, then left a year later.

Why hasn't he been in TV the past two years?

"I was waiting to be asked," is his answer.

Compromise Set In West Virginia Teachers Strike

GLENVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — A temporary compromise has been worked out in the Gilmer County teachers strike.

The striking teachers agreed Sunday to return to their classrooms while negotiations are held on their sought-after pay increase.

Gilmer County School Supt. Albert Moore agreed to pay the salaries of three teachers who are scheduled to meet in Charleston Tuesday with the State Board of School Finance and officials of the West Virginia Education Association.

The representatives will discuss the pay raise issue with state education officials.

About one-half of the county's 81 teachers stayed away from their classes last Thursday and Friday after the Gilmer County Board of Education refused to review their request for higher pay.

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Restrictions Needed For Indoor Fun

Soon after the tot begins to walk he is inclined to run. Sel-dom do his little feet move as slowly about the house as do the feet of his parents.

When other children of his age or older are with him he may run more, especially as they begin to chase each other about.

Unrestrain-Dr. Garry Myers

may often engage indoors at games of chase, sometimes becoming noisy, even in danger of injury to themselves or the home furnishings. From six to ten they may engage in jumping, tumbling or wrestling.

Some parents may then easily say effectively, "If you want to run, go outdoors." But many other parents would say this in vain. Where would their children go outdoors to run and romp?

I'M REMINDED of the story of the tot, three, running up and down the aisle of an airplane in flight. He was annoying the other passengers. The stewardess said to him: "Why don't you take your toys and go outside to play?" There are millions of young children in our nation who could not find a safe place outside to play any more easily than could that youngster on the airplane. Suppose they lived in an apartment or in any building in a crowded place of a city.

Some of these children live in rooms among so many other persons there that they could have but little opportunity to run or play games of chase there. Fortunately, when they reach school age, they may find some playgrounds where they can run and play. But until then?

Then there are a few homes which have a special room for youngsters to romp in. But their parents may still have the problem of training these children to walk while in the other rooms of the house.

SUPPOSE you lived in a comfortable house with several children from three to eight. You announce "Get ready for dinner" and they all may rush wildly to do so, pushing or sparring on the way. If one or more are coming down the stairs, they may jump from the second or third step to the floor. Most of you are very familiar with such problems.

You know that it is not easy to train your young child to walk indoors; and the more so if he is high-strung and excitable. You know that, as he runs more and more indoors, especially when with one or more other youngsters, he grows more excitable. When this happens you may feel more jittery yourself.

When your own young children romp and roughhouse indoors or when one or more of yours are joined by playmates in such fun, you may need to define some definite limits. There may be times when you will need to send playmates home and require your child or children to sit doing nothing, unamused, for 20 or 30 minutes. This is far more effective than jawing and may induce more calmness in many nervous jittery children. My bulletin "The Nervous Child" and "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Students From Presentation Win Honors In Competition

First-place awards in the Beaver County oratorical contest and the Pennsylvania Modern Science Academy Mathematics competition were received by three students of Presentation Catholic School of Midland Friday and Saturday.

The oratory winner was Michael Smith, a sixth-grader, who competed at the Penn-Beaver Hotel in Rochester Friday.

Smith will advance to Butler for statewide competition May 13 to 15. If he wins there, he will receive a trophy and a $1,000 college scholarship. He also will be eligible for national competition at Baltimore, Md.

The theme for the contest was "Optimism, Youth's Greatest Asset."

James D'Itri and Lana An-crille, both eighth-graders, won first-place honors at Johnstown Friday in the state Junior Academy of Science mathematics competition. Both had achieved district honors during a Western Pennsylvania conference in March.

Second-place honors were won by Gregory Phillips in the oratory contest at Rochester and by Colleen Mullen and Donna Masticone at Johnstown.

Presentation School is the first Beaver County School to enter the Junior Academy of Science competition.

Sister Teresa Mary, math instructor, coached the math winners and Sister Angelus the oratory winners.

Other Presentation students entered in the Beaver competition were Stanley Darbuth, John Zdanak, Robert Migliore, David Magliore, Nicholas Raneli and Vincent DiMaggio.

Workers Vote Again On Plan To Join Union

MARION, Ohio (AP) — For the eighth time in 11 years, employees of Whirlpool Corp.'s Marion Division vote today on whether they finally want to join a union—this time the Teamsters whose President James R. Hoffa made a personal plea Sunday.

About 300 persons attended Hoffa's appearance. Some 900 are to participate in the National Labor Relations Board election. Hoffa challenged management's statements that customer acceptance of Whirlpool products is the workers' only job security, urging the employees to organize so they can "sit across the table from management and decide issues that directly affect you."

Boys Nabbed In Car Thefts After Pursuit

Two boys nabbed in a stolen car early Sunday near Wellsville later admitted the theft of another auto in East Liverpool last week and their 18-year-old companion, although not involved in the theft, will be charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors by furnishing them beer, police reported.

Officers said the three were pursued and arrested by Patrolman Charles Amato of Wellsville shortly after a 1949 auto owned by Mrs. Mary Kessel of 1802 Chester Ave., Wellsville, was reported stolen at midnight Saturday from a lot at the Osteopathic Hospital.

All three are being held at the County Jail at Lisbon awaiting interviews with Juvenile Officer James Miller and possible hearings before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Wellsville.

Police said Pierce Little, 18, of 610 College St., companion of the two minors, will be charged with purchasing beer for them at a Wellsville tavern.

Under interrogation at police headquarters here by Lt. W. E. McDaniel and Patrolman Howard Frontz, the two younger suspects admitted they were responsible for the theft of a 1949 auto owned by Vance M. Thomas of 416 College St., officers said.

The Thomas car, stolen the night of April 25-26 from College St., was found abandoned last Tuesday afternoon on Clairborne St. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith. The two juvenile suspects are 16 and 14, respectively, officers said. Both live in the downtown area.

Police said the theft of the Kessel car was reported about midnight Saturday. Patrolman Robert Duffy, desk officer, broadcast the description and license number. About 12:37, Officer Amato spotted the auto in the north end of Wellsville. He pursued it to the Campground Rd., where the car was halted and the three were taken into custody.

Frontz and McDaniel went to Wellsville police headquarters to take custody of the three. McDaniel said Little was not involved in the theft of either car. He did not know the Kessel car had been stolen until it was halted by the Wellsville officer, McDaniel said.

After interviewing the trio here, police relayed the facts to Miller. He ordered them removed to the County Jail. Police said all three boys had been drinking.

McDaniel commended the Wellsville department for its assistance in the case, particularly Officer Amato. He said the Federal Bureau of Investigation will be notified of the case, as the two teen-agers admitted the Kessel car had been driven into West Virginia. A federal statute prohibits driving a stolen vehicle across state lines, he pointed out.

Flag Presented To Cub Pack 7

Presentation of an American flag by the Veterans City Council highlighted the meeting of Cub Pack 7 Friday night at St. Aloysius School, with parents as guests.

Making the presentation were John Ruhe, Mrs. Anna Jones, chaplain, and Mrs. Gertrude Ward. The Cubs joined in a poem, "This Grand Flag," as part of the ceremony.

Enrolled as new pack members were Joseph Jarvis and Buddy Gilkinson. Johnny Prokop and David Ryan were installed as den chiefs.

The Cubs were reminded that Communion Sunday will be observed May 8, with Cubs to be in uniform. The boys and their mothers will sit together.

Other coming activities include: Participation in the Memorial Day parade May 30, with Cubs meeting at Loblaw's parking lot at 10:30 a. m.; a family picnic June 19; a father-son fishing derby July 23; a trip to Pittsburgh Aug. 6 for the Pittsburgh-Cincinnati baseball game.

A planners' meeting will be held May 19 at 7:30 p. m.

Closing prayer was conducted by Michael Wise, Douglas Milbauer, Stephen White, Elmer J. Barrow, Joseph Jarvis, Buddy Gilkinson, Ted Smith and Rick Anderson, first communicants.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Doris Barrow and Mrs. Jean Stoy.

White Raps Governor For Bus Law Support

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—William L. White has accused Gov. James A. Rhodes, whom he seeks to defeat in Tuesday's Republican primary for governor, of supporting Ohio's new school bus law for political purposes.

White called the bill extending public school bus service to private and parochial pupils a violation of Ohio's constitution.

Board Plans County Rally On Education

The Board of Trustees of the proposed Columbiana County Community College will meet tonight at 8 in its office at the Farmers Bank Building in Lisbon.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, chairman, said plans will be made for a countywide meeting of persons of all political affiliations, religious faiths and walks of life "to pull this county together" on plans for higher education.

Gosney said the meeting of the trustees tonight also is open to the public.

"We want to reach a general agreement so Columbiana County will obtain an institution of higher learning and not lose the $1,750,000 that is available in state funds," Gosney said.

His statement was a reference to two movements on diverging lines for establishment of a higher education plan — one calling for enlargement of the Kent State University Academic Centers in Salem and East Liverpool and the other pushing for establishment of a Community College in the Lisbon area.

Meanwhile, the Mahoning County Community College board of trustees has agreed to meet May 13 with the trustees of the community college.

Mahoning trustees set up the meeting at the request of Gosney.

His request was made two weeks ago after John Marshall Briley of the Ohio Board of Regents suggested the Columbiana board consider a combination community college with Mahoning County.

Most local boards of education in the nation provide "homebound" teachers to instruct children confined to their homes with illnesses certified by physicians or physical impairments.

Ingot Output Keeps Rolling

CLEVELAND (AP)—Raw steel production continues at a fast pace, just slightly below the year's high point, Steel Magazine reported today. The ingot production last week was estimated by the weekly journal of metalworking at 2,730,000 net tons, up 10,000 from the previous week and only 14,000 tons under the 1966 peak, reached in the week ended April 2.

Order entry has slipped back to a level closely approximating mill shipping capacity, Steel said, having reached a peak peak just before mid-April. "The big producers of heavy plates and structurals are still building backlogs, but unfilled orders in most products are starting to shrink," Steel reported. "Mill leadtimes are basically unchanged and may remain so for several weeks. . . any changes that develop will be in favor of purchasers." A tabulation by the magazine of financial reports from 21 U.S. steelmakers showed sales 12 per cent under a year ago for the first quarter, and earnings off 25 per cent. Year-ago sales were increased by customers efforts to build inventories against a possible strike, the magazine pointed out.

House Becomes Electronic Marvel

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

You can wash that old-fashioned house right out of your head, and remodel it from scratch, says interior designer, house improvement specialist, William Baker. He did. At the finish line, he has a fully automatic electronic marvel of a home that began three years ago with a rather dilapidated 100-year-old house in Greens Farms, Conn. It requires a big dream and money. Baker had the dream and a lot of people cooperated "in helping me see a dream come true," he explains.

HE HAS the works — a hydronic heating system (turn the heat on for awhile, a fan takes over and circulates the warm air) . . . a low-voltage electric system (so you can't get shocked or electrocuted) . . . a vacuum flow cleaning system (a hose is plugged into an outlet and the dust is sucked into a gizmo in the garage). Open a closet. You've got a symphony. Music plays whenever the electronic system takes over — at a wall that looks like a wall, only it isn't. Press a button. Music plays as the wall folds back and reveals a handsome bar - soda fountain, mosaic tile walls, stained glass windows. Press another button. There's a movie setup — a big screen that also serves as the television screen.

The brick-walled kitchen is in full view of the dining and living area, an aesthetic integration of the 32-by-34-foot room. A dining bar seats seven and the kitchen is loaded with built-ins—toaster, can opener, mixers, even the telephone. The intercom system can locate the Bakers' five children in or out of doors. The cupboards are eight feet high. But reach up, and pull them down to your height.

IN THE master bedroom, there's a bed of beds — 7½ feet long by 7½ feet wide made of 6-inch latex foam rubber on ¾-inch plywood, set on a pedestal. A white carpet covered with metal disks goes up the wall behind it to the ceiling. Bed control boards perform this magic, all in one operation: lights dim, draperies close, television rises from a cabinet, swivels in viewing position and begins to play.

There are innovations everywhere. A bed comes out of a wall horizontally in a very narrow guest room, another wall folds up like a screen in a room for two children.

But it's the outdoor deck that the Bakers will practically live on until next winter. "Every house that has a sloping terrain in back (this one slopes from four to eight feet) should have a deck, not only to improve the appearance of the house, but because you can almost live on it in good weather," he says.

The deck is on two levels, the upper one 32 feet long, 12 feet wide, and another used as a dining area three steps below, 12 by 14 feet. It's a good do-it-yourself project for a handyman. It is built of structural fir—rails 2-by-6s, seats 2-by-8s, floor 2-by-4s spaced one-quarter inch apart for drainage. Joists are 2-by-10s fastened with 3½-inch galvanized screws. The seating is part of the wood frames and follows it around the patio. The deck is supported with steel lolly columns and is attached to the main footing of the house. Illumination is provided by waterproof spot lighting in a tree, where hi-fi is also mounted. There is music control, light control and telephone. The barbecue is part of the indoor barbecue and fireplace. Baker has brought all of his talents into play in designing the house. He has been a woodcarver, studied interior architecture in Europe and he's been a Hollywood set designer. At the entrance foyer a flight of illuminated clear plastic stairs is suspended from steel cables, leading to two bedrooms, "not quite finished."

Colonial Fence

Easy To Build, Economical

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY
The home owner who wants to fence in any part of his property could hardly do better than to build a Colonial fence.

It is probably the most economical type of fence known, is extremely good looking and is easy to repair and paint. This fence was very popular in Colonial days. It kept cattle and domestic animals from straying, and yet a man could step over one easily since it is usually only two feet high.

The building of this fence is done with two-by-four square posts, spaced six feet apart, sunk in the ground one foot and extending above ground two feet.

Any variation within reason is allowable. The two-inch faces of the posts are outward. Across the top of the posts, a one-by-six strip is laid flat, flush with the post across the back and extending out two inches over the outer face of the post.

Beneath this another one-by-six is nailed to the face of the posts and up under the overhang of the top string, giving a boxed-in effect. Between ground and top another strip is nailed across the face, giving a very solid and attractive appearance.

Paint the wood before it is assembled; another coat after the fence is finished will suffice for several years. The lower portion of the posts should be treated with a rot-preventing coat before being set in place. Nothing except galvanized nails should be used in the work.

Digging the holes for the posts will be an easy chore if you can manage to borrow or rent a posthole digger. If not, a pointed shovel is the next best tool. When back-filling around the posts, the soil should be tamped down hard.

'Home Improvement Month' Proclaimed By Gov. Rhodes

May has been proclaimed "National Home Improvement Month" by Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio.

He urges all residents of the state to "examine and reappraise the condition, equipment and facilities of their homes, with the view of instituting remodeling programs where necessary."

During the month, local lumber and building material dealers, in cooperation with other construction industry trade groups, are prepared to advise home owners of the advantages of keeping their homes in tip-top shape to provide better living and family life.

Lee E. Adkins of the Adkins Lumber and Supply Co. here, a member of the Ohio and National Lumber and Building Material Dealers Association of Washington, D. C., had this comment in conjunction with the observance:

"Repair of existing homes throughout the nation continues to grow in dollar volume annually. In 1965 remodeling was a $13-billion business. This year it is expected to reach $14 billion. The dollar value of this booming market comes very close to approximating one-half of the dollar value of new housing construction. One of the basic reasons this business is experiencing such rapid expansion is that many home owners prefer to remain in their present dwellings, with desirable new locations more and more difficult to find."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rhodesia's Prime Minister Ian Smith has belittled the effect of a British blockade of his country and says "We will come out of this exercise a lot stronger than we went into it."

Rhodesia Leader Belittles British Blockade Efforts

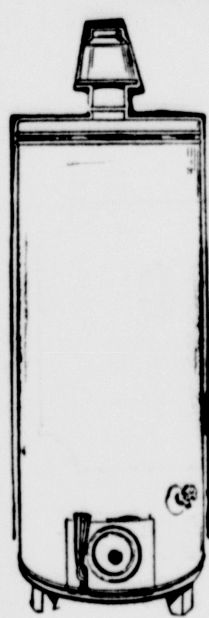

Smith, in a copyright interview in "U.S. News & World Report," says a number of reasons make him confident his government can survive the British campaign.

"You see, inherently we have a very good country here," he said when questioned at Salisbury, Rhodesia. "It produces lots of things that are in demand in the rest of the world and there are people who have built up trading relations with us, who like the quality of the things that we produce; the price is right and so they are not going to be easily deviated."

New Door Uses

Novel Suggestion Offered

By ANDY LANG
AP Newsfeatures

A door provides a means of access. It is opened and closed. It is operated while in a vertical position.

All of these things are not necessarily so. If it's a flush door, which is completely lacking trim, it can serve quite a few purposes that have nothing to do with swinging on hinges. Its very absence of paneling and molding makes it ideal as a horizontal, smooth, fixed surface.

The unhandiest of handymen can produce a simple but practical and eye-pleasing coffee table merely by purchasing a flush door and ready-made legs of the kind that screw into base-plates.

These base plates are attached to the underside of the door, with screws. The legs, which come in a variety of styles and sizes, have threaded tops which are inserted into the plates by turning in a clockwise direction.

Give the door a clear finish and you have a coffee table that will fit in with any decor, especially if you select a wood that harmonizes with the rest of your furniture.

By PLACING longer legs on the door, you can similarly make a dining table. It can be used regularly for that purpose or, because the legs can be so easily detached, used only when you have a houseful of company and need an emergency dining table. In the latter case, the legless door can be conveniently stored for use at another time.

Flush doors also make excellent work surfaces for many endeavors, among them laying out patterns.

And they are good for various types of games and as a foundation for train tracks when the use of the floor isn't practical.

Still another use for a flush door is as a base for a sofa. In addition to the door, you will need a latex foam rubber mattress, slipcovers and a set of six sturdy legs. A 7-foot door will serve the purpose. One leg should be attached in each corner, and one in the middle on each side. The slip-covered mattress is then placed on the platform. There are many variations of this.

Pincore foam, sold in thicknesses up to 6 inches, can be used instead of a finished mattress.

OR TWO doors can be placed end to end, clamped together with brackets, and covered with a large piece of covered foam rubber that doesn't cover the entire surface.

By centering the foam and leaving perhaps two or more feet on each side, end tables are automatically created. These two surfaces can be given a clear finish. Or they can be covered with tile or one of the adhesive-backed papers or plate glass or a mirror or opaque glass. Place a tall lamp on each side and you have a neat, modern sofa.

Tips Are Offered For The Cleaning Of An Old Table

Question: We have been given an old, round-topped, hallway-type of table that has been in the family many years.

It has a dark, almost black finish that, nevertheless, shows the grain of the wood. There are no cracks or other marks in it. In fact, the entire table is exquisitely made, with curved legs that have claws at the bottom.

But the whole thing has a dull, dingy appearance. We would like to clean it, but we are so afraid that we may put something on it that will damage it permanently. Have you any suggestions?

ANSWER: It is surprising how many times old pieces of furniture can be restored simply by washing them.

Use a mild soap and lukewarm water, rubbing with a clean, lintless cloth. Rinse off all the soap and then, using a new, dry cloth, wipe thoroughly—and make sure that every bit of water is removed. This will effectively remove accumulated grime and will let you know quickly whether any further steps are necessary.

If the finish does not appear to be sparkling, wipe the surface with a cloth dampened with turpentine.

When even this does not seem to have cleaned the wood sufficiently, wipe with another cloth, this time dampened with denatured alcohol.

Do not rub, since there is a possibility that some of the finish will come off if it happens to be shellac.

Should you now have a clean surface, but lacking in luster, apply a 50-50 mixture of turpentine and boiled linseed oil. This time rubbing is not only recommended but absolutely necessary, since it is the rubbing that will restore the patina. As a final touch, a light coat of wax can be applied.

Tips Offered On Iron Work

More and more iron work is being used in and around homes these days and, unlike wood, very few people know much about the proper way to handle it.

The orthodox method for installing iron posts, columns or trellis work of this type is to cut into the masonry upon which the iron work is to set, drop the ends into the hole and then pour in molten lead to fill the hole and make a rigid support.

There is no doubt about this being an excellent and professional method, but the amateur is quite liable to shatter several bricks while drilling a one-inch hole or else crack the concrete. A much easier and equally solid method is a "natural" for the home handyman.

This operation consists of setting the ends of the iron work on the surface to which it is to be attached and shimming or wedging it up to the required level.

After this is done, a light wood form is assembled and set around the ends. This should be large enough to insure at least three inches of concrete all around. After the form is set it should be filled with concrete to the top and screeded off smooth. The best mix will be one of cement, two of sand and three of crushed stone or gravel. Only enough water should be used to make the mix workable.

If the iron work is set on a concrete surface, it is usually not necessary to roughen or hack the surface, nor is this required over a brick surface.

If the iron work is coming right from the bare ground, then the concrete form is usually large enough in area to form a good foundation, but first the ground should be raked smooth, wet down and then tamped down hard so as to avoid settlement.

Save all the tops that come on round containers, such as those for cottage cheese. Paint a set in matching colors. Apply matching decals to the centers. You have a nice set of coasters.

Youths Face Hearing For Brawling At Park

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—Sixteen Butler County residents—12 of them juveniles—have a date in domestic relations juvenile court in connection with a brawl at Four Mile Creek Park. Sheriff's deputies broke up the fight early Sunday. They charged the youths with delinquency and filed charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors against four older teenagers. It was not clear what started the brawl, deputies said.

Chertoff Leads Program

Municipal Court Holds 'Law Day' Observance

The annual local observance of "Law Day — USA" marked this morning's session of Municipal Court.

Judge Samuel M. Chertoff directed the program, which preceded and followed a series of police court cases, while an audience of high school students and adults looked on.

The speakers included Judge Chertoff, Lawrence W. Smith, president of the County Bar Association, and Mayor George E. Willshaw.

Each stressed the primary theme of "Law Day" — that United States' government is a rule, not men, and the government derives its powers only by the consent of the governed.

The program began as Bailiff Wilbert P. Taylor announced the formal opening of court in traditional fashion. Announcements by the judge followed the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Smith and Willshaw spoke following the conclusion of the trials. Then members of the audience were invited to ask questions.

"Respect the law, because the law respects you," the judge told the audience. Willshaw asserted: "The law works for us, not against us."

Smith pointed out the annual program was established to "call attention to our heritage of law and freedom." He added that in the United States "the rights of the individual transcend those of

House Eyes School Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Another round in the spending battle between President Johnson and the big Democratic majority in Congress takes place in the House this week. This time the skirmish centers on education and health appropriations.

A nationwide observance of "Law Day" also was arranged by Judge Chertoff as president of the North American Judges Association. Judges of lower courts throughout the nation, particularly those who are members of the NAJA, held similar programs this morning.

The programs are held annually, usually on May 1, to counteract the May Day celebrations staged by Communist organizations around the world.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Change Of Attitude Needed

Your attitude toward attaining desirable weight is far and away more important than the number of pounds you may need to reduce. Try this attitude: Life is too short to allow overeating to spoil all the other pleasures.

A young woman in her twenties writes: "I'm so overweight I am ashamed to get out around anybody. I have tried to diet, but it's not easy to give up one of the few pleasures in life. Good food is the most wonderful thing in the world. Diet pills make me ill. I would appreciate any help."

ARE YOU game to adventure in a new way of thinking? Good food is wonderful, but overeating eventually can bar you from all other pleasures. Why do you equate good eating with overeating? Try to get a new view. The right pattern of eating does not deprive you of anything except the excess fuel that maintains the fat that is taking much of the joy out of living.

When you look upon overeating as a bad habit and the reason you are ashamed to mingle with other people, you get a new perspective.

Suddenly you see it is no favor to yourself to continue to eat until you feel surfeited. Appetite depressant pills are little if any help in reducing, so you are not being deprived on that score.

To keep from feeling put-upon, realize that you need not lessen your eating pleasure in order to lose weight. By taking measures to lessen your food capacity you will not crave to overeat.

At first you will have to challenge yourself to practice getting up from the table prior to that full feeling. Overeating has "stretched" your stomach and created a big capacity. Reverse the process and in as short a time as 10 days you will begin to feel content on moderate meals. In three weeks you will be astounded at the change and will be slimming down beautifully.

YOU ARE no doubt a superb cook. Use this skill to devise ways of cooking with fewer calories, without detracting from the true goodness of food. Substitute excellent quality for too much food.

Get interested in shape-ups. The rewarding part of exercise, particularly for so young a woman, is that you'll see definite improvement from one week to the next. Before long you'll love feeling fit and slimmer.

There is a whole new world awaiting you when you open your eyes to the possibility of what you can do for yourself. Grab hold of the idea that you will enjoy eating to slim down, and exercising to shape up. Enjoyment means satisfaction in experiencing.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Eat To Build Leanness and Isometric Exercises. Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of The Review.

Wounded Veterans Receive Surprise White House Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the troops at his elbow, the commander in chief picked up his "favorite little girl friend" and confidently asked, "Who do you love?"

The stock reply for Courtney Lynda Valenti, 2½, to the stock question from President Johnson is, "The Prez."

But Sunday was Courtney's day to be fickle. Without hesitation she replied: "I love Pat," looking over the President's shoulder to Patrick J. Nugent, Johnson's future son-in-law.

The shift in affections by the young daughter of presidential assistant Jack Valenti touched off a round of laughter in Johnson's office in which the President, his daughter Luci—who will become Nugent's bride in August, and Nugent joined. It also drew laughs from the troops—13 wounded Viet Nam veterans who were getting a special tour of the White House at the time.

The veterans had gathered on the sidewalk outside the National City Christian church, hoping to get a handshake from the President as he left the service.

Instead, they got:—A stroll through the White House rose garden with the President and the Johnson family's four dogs.

—An inspection of their commander in chief's office.

—A tour of the rest of the White House with Luci and Nugent serving as guides.

—A pat on the back from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

—And presidential medallions and photographs as souvenirs.

"It was all so fantastic, so utterly impromptu," said Col. Edward J. Costello, chief of information activities at Walter Reed Army Hospital who was escorting the group of about 30 veterans on a weekend tour of Washington.

About half the soldiers decided to take up posts outside the church, Costello said, while the other half slept late in their hotel rooms across the street from the church.

As Johnson walked down the church steps, he shook hands with the soldiers and stopped to talk with Pfc. William Klotz of Pittsburgh, Pa., who lost a foot in Viet Nam. The President was about to enter his limousine when he returned to Klotz and asked whether he and the other veterans would like to visit the White House.

About half the soldiers were in sport clothes. They hurried back to their hotel rooms to change into their uniforms. After arousing a few of their drowsy buddies, they headed for the White House in a sightseeing bus.

Democrats Hold Final Vote Rally

Columbiana County Democrats have been told it's time the party in Ohio "takes hold by its bootstraps and pulls itself up to the leadership role it should have."

The words are those of Don R. Gosney, 18th District state Democratic committeeman, who spoke Saturday night during the final rally at Knox Local School preparatory to Tuesday's primary.

"We have drifted to the point where we are at the bottom of the barrel and have no place to go but up," Gosney said. "Our leadership the past few years has offered no new ideas and very little imagination. We can pick a new general after the primaries to lead the millions of Democrats in Ohio to victory in November. This can only be done with good leadership."

Gosney also pointed out that the state committee will have to quit being a rubber stamp group and take hold of the Democrat party along with county chairmen and build a permanent party in Ohio "and get away from letting the candidate for governor handpick the state chairman."

Crashes Kill 22 In Ohio

By The Associated Press

For the fourth weekend in the past five, and seventh in 12, the Ohio traffic toll has amounted to 20 or more deaths—this time a known 22.

A pair of head-on collisions, near Carrollton Saturday night and outside Fostoria Sunday, accounted for three fatalities each.

Another head-on crash, in Cleveland Friday night, killed two.

Two motorists died when their cars rammied the rear of vehicles on interstate superhighways, while there was a death in a one-car wreck on the Ohio Turnpike, and another when a pedestrian was struck on the Detroit-Toledo Expressway.

Deaths reported since noon Saturday:

Gladys Lynn, Bellville, pedestrian struck by a car on Ohio 97 just west of Bellville in Richland County.

Bertha Weinhofer, 64, Sebring, whose car collided with a train at a crossing just north of her home town in Mahoning County.

David P. Mann, 18, Canton, occupant of a car that crashed on Ohio 8 in Summit County.

Farquhar L. McIntosh, 57, and his wife, Edna, 57, of Minerva, and Robert J. Fitzsimmons, 66, Delroy, Carroll County, when Fitzsimmons' car veered left of center and collided head-on with the McIntosh auto.

James Tucker, 55, Fostoria; Mrs. Janet L. Akery, 34, Rochester, Mich.; and Mrs. Patricia S. Felder, 23, Jacksonville, N.C., when the women's car veered left and collided head-on with Tucker's auto on Ohio 12 east of Fostoria.

Mrs. Ruth E. Bacon, 49, Tiffin, of injuries suffered Saturday in a three-car wreck west of Fremont.

Richard Tichenell, 28, Elyria when his motorcycle collided with an auto on Ohio 36 west of Cadiz.

City Hospital Treats 11 In Emergencies

A man injured when he stepped into a hole was admitted to City Hospital, where 11 others were treated over the weekend.

Nelson Dallas of 415 Elm St. was in "fairly good" condition today with a fractured ankle suffered when he stepped into a hole. He was admitted Saturday afternoon.

Eight were treated Sunday. Ronald Deese of 413 Grant St., Newell, burned his right hand on a skillet at home.

John K. Jackson of 507 Ketchel Ave., Newell, suffered contusions of the large toe when a ware bin fell on his left foot while he was working at the Harker China Co.

Clarence Spann of 2003 Danbury Ave., Wellsville, burned his right thumb and forearm on an auto carburetor that caught fire.

Rites Scheduled For Michigan's Sen. McNamara

DETROIT (AP)—Patrick Vincent McNamara, who once earned nine cents an hour as a pipefitter, today was honored by the state he served in the U.S. Senate for nearly 12 years.

The 71-year-old Michigan Democrat died Saturday night after suffering a stroke at Bethesda Naval Hospital, Bethesda, Md. He had been under treatment there since March 11 for a blood clot which settled in a lung.

McNamara, chairman of the Senate Public Works Committee, announced earlier this year he would not seek a third Senate term. His failing health was believed to have prompted the decision.

Funeral services will be Wednesday in Detroit's Holy Name Catholic Church.

President Johnson and leading figures of Michigan joined in a tribute to McNamara.

McNamara, born in North Weymouth, Mass., left high school and became an apprentice pipefitter.

McNamara set out after the Democratic Senate nomination in 1954, challenging former Sen. Blair Moody, favorite of virtually the entire state party.

Moody died before the election, too late for any other Democrat to get his name on the ballot. Democrats patched their differences with McNamara and endorsed the blunt Irishman with the rasping voice.

In short speeches and simple language, McNamara campaigned for the office, denouncing the Eisenhower administration. He beat Republican Sen. Homer Ferguson by 39,000 votes.

ORDINANCE NUMBER 12, 1966

AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING ADDITIONAL TO EMPLOYEES OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO, EMPLOYEES TO COMPENSATE FOR YEARS OF SERVICE OF EACH EMPLOYEE DECLARING AN EMERGENCY.

WHEREAS, certain members of the various departments other than police and fire of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, and other employees who are paid on an hourly basis, and are employed in the various departments for many years and have acquired experience, and such experience adds to their value as employees, and it is deemed to be above inexperienced personnel and it is desirable to keep them as employees;

WHEREAS, this Council is of the opinion that said members should receive additional compensation for such experience and responsibility;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDERED BY THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF EAST LIVERPOOL, STATE OF OHIO:

SECTION 1. In addition to the compensation provided from time to time by ordinances of the City of East Liverpool, Ohio, for employees of the various departments of the City who are paid on monthly or yearly salary, said employees shall receive, as wages such sums of money as are arrived at by the application of the following percentages to each regular monthly salary:

(a) To each employee who has completed 25 continuous years of service four percent, but not more than $25.00 per month;

(b) To each employee who has completed 20 continuous years of service four and one-half percent, but not more than $25.00 per month;

(c) To each employee who has completed 15 continuous years of service four and one-half percent, but not more than $25.00 per month;

(d) To each employee who has completed 10 continuous years of service three and one-half percent, but not more than $25.00 per month;

(e) To each employee who has completed 5 continuous years of service three and one-half percent, but not more than $25.00 per month.

SECTION 2. The term of "continuous years of service" shall be defined as employment in the City's service without break or interruption. Leaves of absence without pay or without pay of not more than 30 consecutive days shall not interrupt continuous service nor shall interruption of service be deducted in computing total service, but shall not serve to interrupt continuous service. All absences without pay in excess of 30 days shall be deducted from service. Provided that leaves of absence without pay or without pay taken prior to the effective date of this ordinance shall not be taken into consideration in determining "years of continuous service."

SECTION 3. The additional amounts set forth in Section 1 shall be paid in semi-monthly installments together with the payment of the semi-monthly salary of each employee. Any adjustment in the rate of compensation of any employee under the provisions of this ordinance shall become effective on the first day of the month following the date of the ordinance, or the date of appointment to position.

A Junior Editors Quiz About FORESTRY

QUESTION: Why are foresters necessary?

ANSWER: We see so many things made of metal and plastic in our modern times that we often forget what a large use is still made of wood and how important it is. A great deal of wood goes into modern houses, not only for such structural things as rafters, doors and siding, but also for interior paneling. Most people enjoy the interesting grain of wood, which brings a rich look into a room. Wood has a very wide use for paper - the newspaper you are reading being probably printed on paper utilizing wood pulp in some way.

The only way we can get wood is to cut down trees; but if we simply cut down trees we would soon exhaust the supply. Modern forestry is done on tree farms, where scientific methods of growing new trees are used. This is where foresters come in. They are experts, trained to care for our vitally useful forests in many different ways. Some see to the replanting of areas burned off by fire or the development of new forest areas (upper left). Others supervise fire lookouts and fire fighters. Some study the growth of trees scientifically (Main picture.) Some foresters work for private lumber companies; but many are hired each year by the U. S. Forest Service, often spoken of as forest rangers. Many forest rangers are at work supervising National Parks.

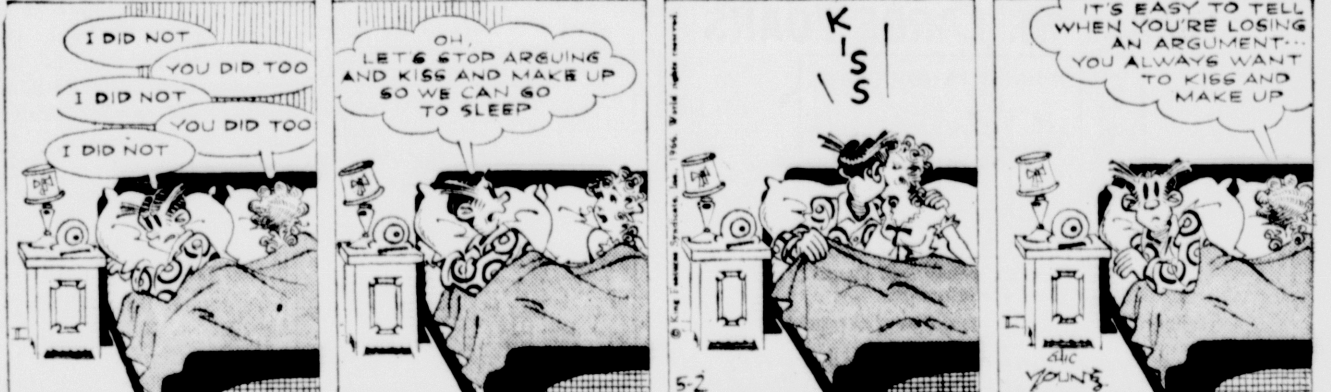

FOR YOU TO DO: Find out more about the work of forest rangers. Write for information to the U. S. Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

Steve Blanton of Richmond, Va., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, May 2, the 122nd day of 1966. There are 243 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1670, the Hudson's Bay Company was chartered with a territory nearly as large as all of Europe.

On this date:

In 1863, Gen. Stonewall Jackson - one of the most brilliant leaders of the Confederate armies - was mistaken for a Union scout and shot by his own men during the Battle of Chancellorsville, Va. He died 10 days later.

In 1912, the House of Representatives voted for the establishment of an experimental parcel post system.

In 1923, Lis. Oakley Kelly and John Macready took off from Roosevelt Field, Long Island, on the first nonstop transcontinental plane flight.

In 1945, Moscow announced the fall of Berlin.

Ten years ago - The Communist party of the United States announced a new shift of the party line to conform with the "new look" espoused by the Kremlin.

Five years ago - The Canadian government announced it had negotiated an agreement to sell six million tons of wheat, barley and flour to Communist China.

One year ago - President Johnson went on television to charge that Communist plotters had taken over the uprising in the Dominican Republic.

2 Women Held Governor Posts

NEW YORK (AP) — If Lurleen Wallace wins the Democratic nomination Wednesday in Alabama, she'll be on her way toward following the petticoat pattern set by Nellie Taylor Ross of Wyoming and Miriam Amanda (Ma) Ferguson of Texas, the only two women ever elected governors in the United States.

Mrs. Wallace is admittedly a stand-in for her husband, Gov. George C. Wallace, who is barred by law from another term. Their husband-and-wife team effort is reminiscent of a 1924 Democratic campaign in Texas.

"Two governors for the price of one" was Ma and Pa Ferguson's campaign slogan then. James E. Ferguson had been governor, and his wife made no claim that he wouldn't be helping to run things if she got elected.

"A vote for me is a vote of confidence for my husband, who cannot be a candidate," she would say bluntly. She was not a baby kisser, and even her two daughters admitted she didn't go out of her way to make a good impression.

But the stickers on the Model Ts read: "Me for Ma, and I ain't got a darn thing against Pa," and on Jan. 20, 1925, Ma Ferguson, at 49, became governor of Texas.

At her inauguration she wore black satin trimmed with chin-chilla. Around her neck floated an ivory feather boa, and on her silver-sprinkled, dark-brown hair rested a feather-decked black hat.

What bothered the Texans about a woman governor, now that they finally had elected her, was that Wyoming had beaten them to the draw.

On Jan. 5, 1925 — 15 days before Ma — Nellie Tayloe Ross took the oath of office as governor of Wyoming, first state to give women the vote.

Up to that moment Mrs. Ross, a slender, good-looking Missouri-born blonde of 45 — "a gentlewoman" everyone liked to say — had been only a mother of three boys — a fourth had died in infancy — and a housewife taking no part in politics. Then her husband, Gov. William Bradford Ross, died in office, and the Democratic State Convention nominated her to serve the remainder of the term.

Mrs. Ross had had a close intellectual association with her husband — a contemporary biography put it — and through him gained an intimate knowledge of practical politics. She carried all but 3 of 23 counties in the election, and at her inauguration she pledged she would continue her husband's policies.

She was defeated for re-election — later becoming the first woman director of the U.S. Mint — but the Denver News wrote: "She has been an executive of sense and discrimination; a credit to women in political office."

The Ferguson team ran again and again, Ma winning a second term in 1932. She was defeated in 1940.

Mexico Cites 8 In Red Plot

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Eight persons—including three Argentines — were indicted today for conspiracy to establish a Communist regime in Mexico.

Mexico's attorney general charged that the eight tried to infiltrate the student strike at the National University and use it as a base for the eventual overthrow of the government.

The three Argentines are Oscar Jose Fernandez Bruno, Adolfo Otilio Malvagni and Edvigies Teresa Confronta. No trial date was set.

The eight were arrested by agents of the Federal Security Office during riots at the university where students forced the rector to resign.

The students have denied their strike was Communist-led, saying it was only a manifestation of student desire for more rights in the governing of the autonomous university.

The eight are charged with conspiracy, criminal association, falsification of government stamps and using false stamps and documents.

They denied the charges.

Man Given Jail Term On Non-Support Case

Larry Osburne, 22, of New Cumberland R. D. 2 was sentenced to a 15-day term in County Jail today when Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a charge of failure to support a minor child.

Osburne pleaded not guilty to the charge, which was filed by his estranged wife, Mrs. Diana Osburne of East Liverpool. Osburne testified he has been unemployed about three months. His wife said the couple separated on April 11.

Hancock County authorities also have lodged a detainer against Osburne, based on an affidavit filed in Squire John Herron's court at New Cumberland. It alleges that he obtained a $189 television set from Clovis E. Glover on April 11 "by false pretenses" and sold it to Olive Mankowski.

Grimm's Bridge Fire Damages Small Cabin

Loss was estimated at $1,000 after fire late Sunday night burned out the interior of a small summer cabin at Grimm's Bridge on Beaver Creek.

Chief LaVerne Seckman of the Calcutta volunteer fire department said the structure is owned by Glenn Burnett of W. 2nd St. Two unidentified men who had rented the cabin escaped injury, he said.

The blaze was blamed on a defective fireplace. Calcutta firemen received the alarm at 10:20 p. m. They returned to their station shortly after midnight.
